RAF STRIKES AT GERMANY FROM SOUTH

Berlin Radio Hints at Start Of Crunching Two-Way Allied Aerial Squeeze On the Reich

DVEASTATE LARGE AREA

London, Oct. 25.—(P)—RAF Mosquitos bombed targets in the Ruhr and Rhineland last night, the British announced today as the Berlin radio hinted at the start of a crunching two-way Allied aerial squeeze on Germany by declaring that American four-engined bombers based in Italy had attacked southern Germany, Austria and Hungary yesterday.

A brief air ministry communique announcing the RAF raids gave no details of the overnight operations, which also included mine-laying in enemy waters. All planes were said to have returned safely.

The American attacks yesterday reported by the Berlin radio apparently were on a heavy scale. Allied confirmation and full details of this daylight flight, presumably across the Adriatic mountains of Yugoslavia, were not forthcoming immediately but the German broadcasts gave every indication the attack was a big surprise and was carried out in great force.

It came at the very moment when a major new development was being unfolded in Britain for the two-direction air attack against Germany—the installation on British bases of squadrons of P-38 Lightning fighters equipped with extra fuel tanks to give them a range of 1,100 miles.

In the Berlin broadcast, the German news agency DNB declared that 300 heavy bombers escorted by 200 fighters attacked unspecified towns in Germany and Austria, explaining that targets in the Austrian province of Styria were among the objectives and that at one place "major damage was caused."

If true, this would constitute the first time an air blow has been struck at the Reich itself from the south by planes based in Italy.

The German agency described the attacking force as "large formations" of four-engined bombers and added:

"Bombs were dropped over a fairly large area between Vienna and the northern approaches to the Alps."

A Budapest report suggested yesterday's operation was a shuttle. (Turn to Page Two)

BULLETINS

Pittsburgh, Oct. 25.—(P)—Mrs. Rose Schaefer, mother of four children in the service, was notified by the war department today that her son, Lieut. Gerard A. Schaefer, 28, was one of 20 men killed in a plane crash at Fort Benning, Ga.

Washington, Oct. 25.—(P)—A sharp drop in production of both anthracite and bituminous coal for the week ended October 16 was reported by the Solid Fuels Administration (SFA), which attributed the declines to sporadic strikes and continued loss of manpower.

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—(P)—Notified by a Philadelphia congressman that the navy is demanding changes in the executive set-up of the Cramp Shipbuilding Company, workers at the firm's yards remained at their jobs today under an indefinite extension of the truce they voted a week ago, ending a three-day work stoppage.

Washington, Oct. 25.—(P)—Chester Bowles, New York advertising man, who has been serving as general manager of the Office of Price Administration, was nominated by President Roosevelt to (Turn to Page Nine)

Industrial Worker Without Hands Writes and Typewrites

Pittsburgh, Oct. 25.—(P)—An industrial accident last March left Arthur Chernay, 38, of Leechburg, with the mangled stump of his left hand, with no right hand at all.

Today, though his arms are not yet completely healed, he has taught himself anew to write and type—very efficiently, too—and he says he hopes soon to be able to resume his place as a full-time worker.

For writing and typing, he uses a device of his own invention, made for him by a friend. It consists of a leather jacket which fits over the stump of his right forearm

Fifth Army Front Scene Of Violent Mountain Battles

Advance of American Forces, Witnessed By General Eisenhower, Places Troops North of Stoutly Defended Regia Canal

BRIDGEHEAD ACROSS TRIGNO RIVER IS ENLARGED

By WES GALLAGHER

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 25.—(P)—Violent mountain battles flared on the Fifth Army front in Italy today as the result of an Allied drive of three miles that took the vital rail and road junction of Sparanise, 13 miles from the western coast.

The advance of the Fifth Army, witnessed by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower while on a tour of the front, placed the American and British troops north of the stoutly defended Regia defense canal leading to the sea and imperiled the position of the Nazi troops in that area.

The Germans launched counter-attack after counter-attack in an effort to relieve their position.

The entire tempo of the war in the sea and air stiffened as American heavy bombers blasted southern Austria and raided the airfield at Tirana, Albania, a second time.

On the Eighth Army's eastern front, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's men poured into an enlarged bridgehead across the Trigno river to attack German positions beyond.

On the Fifth Army front heavy German counter attacks flared east from Sparanise toward Pignatone and Magliara. American troops smashed back four Nazi assaults in 24 hours.

The Fifth Army advance in a mountainous area overlooking the coast constituted a severe threat to the entire German position and if continued would seriously endanger the enemy's Massico Ridge line.

Sparanise, captured by the Fifth Army, is about seven miles north of the Volturno near the center of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's line, and four miles due west of Pignatone, in Allied hands for several days.

The advances of the Eighth Army posed an increasing threat to the inland road junction town of Isernia and eventually the rear of the German Massico Ridge line. The rail yards and aircraft factories at Pistoia near Florence were bombed last night, and other communications lines at Fomina on the west coast and nearby Minturno were blasted again.

In turn the Germans struck again at Naples, now being converted into an Allied supply port, and 15 Nazi planes were shot down yesterday, mostly in sky tangles over Italy. Three of them were bombers which accepted to raid Naples.

The Germans stepped up their air defense by throwing at least 60 fighters against the Allied attacks.

American Flying Fortresses and Liberators, flying for the time with the escort of long-range P-38 Lightnings from Italian bases for a foray over actual territory of the Reich, made the stag into southern Austria.

The big bombers encountered bad weather, however, so that they could not report an accurate observation of results.

B-25 Mitchells, sweeping over the Adriatic for a second surprise attack, carried out the mission to Tirana and destroyed a number of grounded aircraft. Australian Kittybombers also streaked across the Adriatic and bombed landing craft on the Yugoslav coast in the sheltered channel between Korcula island and the mainland and set a 2,000-ton ship smoking in Korcula harbor, northwest of Dubrovnik. A troop-laden launch also was set afire.

RECTOR RESIGNS

Greensburg, Oct. 25.—(P)—The Rev. Thomas H. Carson, rector of Christ Episcopal church here since 1941, has resigned, effective Nov. 25, to become dean of St. Stephen's Cathedral, Harrisburg. He will succeed the Very Rev. J. Thomas Heistand, who recently became bishop of the Harrisburg diocese.

SEVERAL SHIPS SUNK

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Oct. 25.—(P)—Japanese forces which for a week struggled to break through Australian lines to reach the New Guinea coast near Finschhafen have been whittled down and thrust back into the jungle-matted hills.

Allied bombers and fighters and hardened Australian jungle troops crushed the enemy's efforts with coordinated blows.

Four Japanese attacks were repulsed Saturday. Australians hurled back the attackers with heavy losses and kept their hold on Katika village, which has changed hands four times this month.

A communique said the Japanese apparently had hoped to open a route to the sea either to escape or to receive supplies.

In the air, too, the Allies re- (Turn to Page Nine)

Senator Opens Debate on Post War Proposal

Washington, Oct. 25.—(P)—Opening one of the U. S. senate's most important debates in this century, Senator Connally (D-Tex.) declared today the hour has struck for America to show that its might would be dedicated to world peace and against aggression henceforth.

The chairman of the foreign relations committee took the floor to urge adoption of his resolution that the United States "join with free and sovereign nations in the establishment and maintenance of international authority with power to prevent aggression and to preserve the peace of the world."

With every indication pointing to eventual approval of the resolution by an overwhelming vote, Connally told an intent senate: "Isolation has failed. Let us try collective security."

Miners in Alabama Returning to Work

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 25.—(P)—Six big coal mines producing industrial fuel resumed production with less than normal crews today as officials of the United Mine Workers of America predicted an early termination of the unauthorized walkout of nearly all of this state's 22,000 union miners.

The mines, most of which had been idle since Oct. 13 or 14, provide coal for the fuel-shy steel and iron plants here.

James H. Terry, international UMW representative, said he believed "the march back to the mines will grow with rest of the men going to work by mid-week."

Sayreton, Dolomite and other UMW locals voted to go back to work at meetings yesterday.

THREE DIE IN EXPLOSION OF EASTON PLANT

Seventy-Five Thousand Persons and Score of War Plant Without Fuel as Result of Blast

LOSS IS $500,000.00

Easton, Oct. 25.—(P)—Seventy-five thousand persons and more than a score of war plants in Easton and surrounding towns were without fuel for cooking, heating and industrial purposes today, following a Sunday morning explosion and fire that destroyed a large part of the Easton gas works.

Saying a "serious health problem" existed, Mayor Joseph Morrison proclaimed an emergency last night and pleaded for all possible speed in restoring service.

The blast took a toll of three lives, injured 19 persons seriously enough to require hospitalization, and caused minor injuries to scores of others who were treated in their homes and at stations set up by the Red Cross disaster committee.

Mayor Morrison said $500,000 would be a conservative estimate of the damage. Windows were broken as far as two miles away, and 25 homes near the plant were condemned because of damage.

Emergency kitchens established by the Red Cross will remain in operation as long as needed, Mayor Morrison announced. He appealed to persons having coal, electric or bottled gas cooking facilities to aid in feeding their neighbors.

The dead men were John Kepic of Dunmore, Pa., a truck driver who was delivering a load of oil to the plant where the blast occurred, and Henry Jordan and Floyd Transue, both of Easton, gas works employees. Both bodies were removed from the wreckage.

Transue died early this morning in Easton Hospital.

Oscar E. Benson, area manager for the utility, said there was no way of knowing when normal service could be restored. He hoped, with the help of engineers from New York and Reading, to have some sort of emergency service in operation in 48 hours, he said at a conference with city officials.

Residents of the 25 condemned homes found shelters with neighbors, while the rest of the 1,000 persons evacuated from the blast area returned to their damaged residences.

Gasoline was being pumped from Maxwell's truck to a tank when the vehicle caught fire. The youth drove the machine out of the building and 150 yards down the road where it burned.

Distributors Discuss Milk Price Increase

Harrisburg, Oct. 25.—(P)—Pennsylvania milk distributors met here today to consider State Milk Control Commission orders to boost retail prices November 1, in the face of an office of Price Administration warning that anyone violating present ceilings will face prosecution.

Benjamin Eynon, executive vice president of the Pennsylvania Association of Milk Dealers, said the organization's directors would study the conflicting regulations of the two agencies, but declined to forecast last night what action would be taken.

Boards and three-cent a quart boosts were ordered into effect by the milk commission everywhere in Pennsylvania except Philadelphia, Chairman John H. McKee declaring the action was necessary because of a "disastrous falling off in milk production."

The regional OPA headquarters, on the other hand, announced enforcement officers "in each district of Pennsylvania have been instructed to take immediate action against any and all persons violating OPA milk price regulations notwithstanding the Pennsylvania Milk Control Commission orders."

The OPA statement also asserted (Turn to Page Nine)

Conferees At Moscow Work On Agreement

Diplomatic Experts Begin Setting Down in Black and White Vital Document

COALITION IS URGED

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, Oct. 25.—(P)—Marshal Joseph Stalin received Cordell Hull, U. S. secretary of state today as the tripartite conference of war and post-war problems moved into its seventh day.

There was no indication of the subjects covered in the talk between the Soviet leader and the 72-year-old secretary of state, highest U. S. official ever to visit the Soviet Union. Stalin last week had talked with Anthony Eden, Hull's British counterpart.

Diplomatic experts meanwhile were setting down in black and white the points agreed upon by representatives of the United States, Russia and Britain at the conference.

The discussions proceeded amid growing signs in the Soviet press that the Russians considered a coalition of the three powers as necessary for future world peace, the plain-spoken publication "War and the Working Class" asserting that "a combination of any two of them should not stand alone."

The nature of the documents to be drafted by the experts was not disclosed, but it was learned that U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov already had begun deliberating on (Turn to Page Nine)

TWO BURN TO DEATH IN SCOTSDALE BLAZE

Scottdale, Oct. 25.—(P)—Fire which may have started from a cigarette smoked in bed snuffed out the lives of Pearl Fulmer, 23, and her two-year-old daughter, Patricia Ann, yesterday at their home in nearby old Bethany.

The father and daughter had suffered minor injuries in an auto collision near Scottdale and had been sent home by police in another car.

Scottdale firemen said Fulmer apparently put the child to bed and then lay down beside her, smoking a cigarette. His death was attributed to suffocation; hers to burns and shock.

Firemen who extinguished the flames and discovered the tragedy, said two dogs also perished in the fire.

DENIES HE IS DEAD

Butler, Oct. 25.—(P)—Arthur J. Miller, 40, of McKees Rocks, has notified Allegheny county authorities it was not his body that was found in the wreckage of a 22-year-old estranged wife of an RCAF cadet found bludgeoned to death in a locked bedroom of her lavishly appointed apartment in the Beekman Hill section.

The unclad body of Mrs. Patricia Burton Loneragan, mother of a year and one-half old son, was discovered by Marine Captain Peter Elser, described as a former Harvard football star when he called to keep a dinner date last night.

The woman was sprawled across a bed with her face to one side, her arms raised as if to ward off a blow, police said. She apparently had been beaten on the head with an antique brass candlestick, found lying nearby on the floor.

Police said the last time Mrs. Loneragan was seen alive was at 4:30 a. m. yesterday when she returned after visiting several nightclubs with a man who was questioned last night by detectives.

The door to the third-floor bedroom was locked from the inside, police reported, and Capt. Elser forced it open after Mrs. Loneragan failed to put in her appearance. (Turn to Page Nine)

Rail Transportation and Coal Production Hang in Balance As Strikes Are Threatened

By the Associated Press

Washington, Oct. 25.—Continued rail transportation and coal production hung in the balance today, threatened by strikes over wages. The War Production Board foresaw crippling results in steel plants, shipyards and munitions factories unless the situation eased quickly.

The soft coal problem, raised because the United Mine Workers are without a contract with the operators, was complicated further by reports that the War Labor Board, (WLB) was cool to a proposed "model" plan.

The WLB, trustworthy sources said, is not likely to approve the union-backed "model"—a contract with the Illinois Soft Coal Operators Association raising wages in effect $1.50 a day. An alternate formula, calling for $1.12½ a day more may be suggested by the board. This knowledge came out of weekend conferences in which the board explored the subject extensively.

The weekend parleys were impelled by the rapid disaffection in the coal fields after the government returned the mines to private ownership after a summer of federal control. Approximately 35,000 of the 500,000 soft coal miners laid down their tools. The UMW urged the men to return today, pending a settlement of the wage demands.

A back-to-work movement started last night. The rail employment problem meantime neared a crisis. The five operating unions prepared for a strike vote among 350,000 workers who demanded a minimum wage boost of $3 a day. A federal emergency board recommended an increase of four cents an hour. The strike vote will require about 30 days.

In conjunction, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen demanded a sweeping revision of working rules for its membership. The president and wage committee (Turn to Page Nine)

Blessings of Pope Sent to Diocese

Pittsburgh, Oct. 25.—(P)—The blessing of Pope Pius XII was bestowed upon churchmen and the laity of the Pittsburgh Catholic diocese today at a pontifical high mass commemorating the 100th anniversary of the diocese.

The Pope granted his blessing through Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Coggiani, apostolic delegate to the United States. Bishop Hugh C. Boyle, assisted by six priests, celebrated the mass in St. Paul's cathedral.

The diocese has grown in its 100 years to rank eighth in population among the dioceses of the nation. The Rev. Paul E. Campbell, pastor of St. Lawrence's church, said in his centennial sermon, "The mere physical development of the diocese," he said, "does not make our faith more sincere nor more secure, but we must note a growth far beyond the fondest dreams of the hardy pioneers who came first to the missionary field of Pittsburgh."

Young Woman Found Slain In Apartment

New York, Oct. 25.—(P)—A diary and two address books furnished police their principal clues today in the slaying of a 22-year-old estranged wife of an RCAF cadet found bludgeoned to death in a locked bedroom of her lavishly appointed apartment in the Beekman Hill section.

The unclad body of Mrs. Patricia Burton Loneragan, mother of a year and one-half old son, was discovered by Marine Captain Peter Elser, described as a former Harvard football star when he called to keep a dinner date last night.

The woman was sprawled across a bed with her face to one side, her arms raised as if to ward off a blow, police said. She apparently had been beaten on the head with an antique brass candlestick, found lying nearby on the floor.

2,000 NAZIS SLAIN BY RED STEAMROLLER

Russian Sledgehammer Threatens to Drive Another Spike in German Crimean "Ciffin"

MUCH BOOTY CAPTURED

London, Oct. 25.—(P)—The Red Army sledgehammer threatened today to drive another spike in the Nazi Crimean "ciffin" as the onrushing Russians swept to within six miles of the iron and rail city of Krivoi Rog in the center of the Dnieper river loop and rolled an equal distance past captured Melitopol.

The mighty Soviet offensive, described as a "steamroller" by the fleeing Germans themselves, engulfed 50 villages, killed 2,000 Germans and swept up huge amounts of booty, forcing the German high command to an admission of "retreat" in unequivocal terms.

A Russian communique broadcast from Moscow announced the capture of Losovatska, six miles north of Krivoi Rog, and said another Soviet column, rushing on six miles southwest of Melitopol, had taken the railway station of Tashchenak, on the railway to the Crimea.

The communique, recorded by the Soviet Monitor, also told of the capture of seven German strongpoints south of Rechitsa as Nazi counterattacks failed to halt a Russian flanking drive on Gomel in White Russia.

More than 6,500 Germans were said to have been killed or routed between the Sea of Azov and Gomel and Nazi armament falling into the hands of the Russians included more than 71 tanks, 243 machine guns and 52 guns as well as stores of ammunition and other equipment.

As Moscow reports said that the Germans were getting panicky in the Crimea, where their garrison has been estimated at 100,000, the Paris radio said "the dangerous position of the German armies in southern Russia can only be retrieved if some artificial defense line exists somewhere in the Nogaisk steppe."

He was the first witness after a court crier holding aloft a staff topped with a gold crown opened the second week of the slender De Marigny's trial on the charge that he hammered his millionaire father-in-law on the head last July and left him to die on a burning bed.

Three Important Days Remain To Complete War Fund Drive

Three days only remain.

Three days—in the Warren County United War Fund drive.

Three days—in which workers must contact the remaining prospects and present a completed report to Section Chairmen.

Three days—in which Chairmen will check to see that each worker has presented a complete report and then compile a final report to be turned in to the Divisional Chairmen.

Three days—in which Divisional Chairmen must secure completed reports from all Section Chairmen to have ready for final presentation to the General Committee.

These three days will probably be the most dramatic of any similar period in the history of Warren County campaigns. This is due to the fact that the goal of the campaign, $88,700, is the largest in a quarter of a century. At the First Report Meeting on Thursday of last week, only $22,892.38 of this enormous total had been pledged. In other words, about three-fourths was still unsecured. Warren County, which has had such a proud record in all phases of war activity must not fail in this, its greatest task to date.

How much closer are we to our goal today? That question will be answered at the Second Report meeting to be held this evening, Monday October 25, at 7:30 p. m. in the Warren Y. W. C. A. Edward W. Johnson, Chairman of the General Committee, requests that all workers be there as near 7:00 as possible so that reports may be completed and ready when the meeting officially opens at 7:30. It is hoped that divisions which had little to report at the first meeting will have substantial totals tonight.

Nevertheless, no matter how you cut it, the Warren County United War Fund still has a long way to go in the next three days, by the close of the campaign at midnight on Thursday, October 28. Three days! What will they bring?

PITTSFIELD

Pittsfield, Oct. 15.—The Ladies' Aid of the U. B. church was held in the church dining room on Thursday. Following the tureen dinner the business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. W. McIntyre. Plans are being made for a Christmas bazaar.

The P. T. A. tea for the benefit of Mrs. Wall's grades 1 and 2 was a fine success socially and financially. The room was decorated with art work, safety first and autumn fruits done by second grade pupils and cutting and pasting autumn flowers and notebooks in the making by pupils of first grade. Those coming early saw the pupils at work at reading, work book coloring and singing. After the pupils were dismissed a social time and refreshments were enjoyed. Pupils and visitors were interested to hear Mrs. Wall tell of the big black bear she had seen near the Scandia Rocks on her way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Herrington had as their dinner guests on Sunday Mrs. and Mr. William, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ledebur of Titusville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson and son have moved to Youngsville.

Miss Veronica McGraw, who entered St. Vincent's Hospital, Erie, in September to train as a nurse, spent the weekend at her home here with her mother, Mrs. Mary McGraw, and her brother, Ernest McGraw.

Miss Myrtle Norman, who teaches in Akron, O., spent the weekend here. She has closed her summer home here and her mother, Mrs. N. Thompson, has gone to spend the winter with her daughter in Youngsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Cady enjoyed a weekend visit from their children, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, and baby, and Allie, Jr., of Buffalo.

Mrs. Anna Hamilton and daughters, Leona and Velma, from Meadville, and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Osgood of Endeavor were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Osgood.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Lindquist of Akeley were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albin Abraham and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McIntyre entertained at a family dinner in honor of their son, Carl, who leaves on the 20th for the service of Uncle Sam.

A circus camped on the P. R. R. station grounds. The horses and the four elephants were taken from the trucks and allowed to graze. This pleased the local children very much.

About 250 suppers were served by Our Boys Service Club for the benefit of Christmas boxes for the boys. At the regular meeting of this club last Monday, 25 boxes were displayed ready to send overseas. Each contained a Christmas card, a pair of woolen socks and a combination sewing and shoe shining kit. The boxes for the navy will be sent a little later, and those for all the boys in this country still a little later.

ROUTE ON PROGRAM

State Senator L. E. Chapman, one of the most active workers for the reconstruction of Route 6 across the state is in receipt of a letter from Secretary of Highways John U. Schroyer, Dr. Chapman wrote to Sec. Schroyer some time ago relative to placing Route 6 on the program of post war construction and in the reply Sec. Schroyer states that "several millions of dollars have been budgeted for that purpose." The Route is one of the most important in the state and Sen. Chapman has been working to have it built into a multiple lane highway. It is the only highway in the nation reaching from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific waters.

UNITED WAR FUND-AMMENTALS

To All Campaign Workers and to the Public

The Eagle Speaks

Remember The Eagle?

He's the jaunty fellow who acts as a symbol in our United War Fund publicity. You see him on stickers, badges, posters. The Eagle goes everywhere—to Kokomo, to Tallahassee, to Kennebunkport. Wherever a United War Fund Campaign is in progress, he is there. In other words, he gets around. Having seen countless campaigns, The Eagle has some very definite ideas about this one. Quoting The Eagle:

Well, I see you have a total of $22,000 turned in at your First Report meeting last night. That's roughly one-fourth of the total goal of $88,700. About one-third of the campaign is over, so far as days are concerned.

Last night's total:—
Division A—C. T. Conarro and Chester S. Allen.....$11,521.80
Division B—E. H. Ley and B. V. Lesser.....1,695.00
Division C—Mrs. R. G. Dawson and Mrs. M. A. Connelly.....4,020.00
Division E—John G. Rossman.....1,714.33
Division F—Walter T. Kiser.....2,405.00

Borough Total.....$21,356.13
Division G—Allen M. Gibson, County.....1,072.75

Grand Total.....$22,428.88

The Woman's Division made one of the best showings to date. We are proud of their showing in the First Report, nearly half their quota "in the bag." Orchids to Mrs. R. G. Dawson and Mrs. M. A. Connelly.

John G. Rossman has a broad smile of satisfaction lurking upon his face these days. That's because the Warren Public Schools have completed their contribution, and it amounts to a total of $1,207.50.

There's nothing like leg work in this sort of campaign. Or bicycle work (which is just another kind of leg work, no?). It looks as if the legs are getting a workout any way you take it. Unless, of course, you are the fortunate worker who has gasoline to spare. In any case, the best place to see your prospect is at his home or place of business; and you do have to get there somehow or tother.

We hear by the underground that the Warren County Council of Defense has donated $500 to the War Fund—a highly handsome subscription, if you ask me. This money represents proceeds of miscellaneous salvage material donated by Warren County citizens and disposed of by the County Salvage Committee under that doughty scrapper, Douglas MacArthur Corbett, wearer of the 3,000-Hour Service insignia and creator of what the State Salvage Chairman referred to as a "salvage Utopia."

We hear likewise that the Warren Players (may their tribe increase) awoke one night from a deep dream of cider and doughnuts and subscribed $50. The audience applauds. Now, let's see. What about some of you other clubs, societies and circles?

The 100% Club (consisting of organizations whose personnel has subscribed without exception) has some new members today. They are: Selective Service Board No. 1, Lester Shoe Co., U. S. Forestry Service, Times Publishing Co., Phenix Furniture Co., Crossett Co., R. W. Norris, Autobody Repair, Warren National Bank.

And here's some good advice to workers:

Do not leave the pledge card with a prospect to be mailed. Arrange to return later. Cards that are left often reach the waste basket. Tell your prospect that the card is part of the records, and that you must return it to Headquarters with your report.

Suggest an adequate amount to your prospect. No one is hurt when a maximum figure is suggested. Maximum gifts must be secured if we are to reach our objective.

There is no need to approach a prospect in an apologetic manner. This is everybody's campaign. One of our leading citizens said: "If every cent of this campaign went to one War Agency alone, it wouldn't be enough."

We have the finest tools to work with. Now, it means using them. Keep our prospects smiling. But, make them see the importance of this campaign.

Try to reach the Y. W. C. A. as soon after 7 o'clock as possible, so that your report may be in order when called upon.

Monday night's report should be a big one. Many of the larger industries will report and Allen M. Gibson, County Chairman, will have some surprises.

Y. W. C. A.: 7:30 P. M. Tonight! Be there earlier if possible!

Rebekahs At Youngsville Are Installed

Investiture Ceremony Impressive

An impressive investiture ceremony and charter presentation were planned for Scouts and leaders of the First Presbyterian church Troop 8 Sunday evening as part of the regular program of the Church of Tomorrow.

Representing the extension committee of the local council, W. E. Lutz made the charter presentation to E. Ross Carlson, president of the Jefferson Class, troop sponsors. Membership cards were presented to members of the troop committee: J. H. West, R. L. Endress, F. Pierce McCollough, John C. Swick and C. Vance Weld. Scoutmaster and assistant commissions were given to Herman Hansen and Edward F. MacKendrick.

The second assistant Scoutmaster is Delyle Endress who is in active military service.

Scouts and leaders of Troop 4, under the leadership of B. H. White, conducted an impressive candlelight service for the new Scouts of Troop 8 following which Scoutmaster Hansen gave membership cards and pins to the following: Thomas Bean, David Clark, John Clark, Donald Endress, Andrew McComas, Russell Norris, Milton Olson, Copey Schmidt, Donald M. Unangst, Charles Henderson, Richard Stone, James Alabaugh, John Hanna, Wesley Christensen, William Hansen, Benjamin Newmaker, Dick Bean, Keith Reynolds, James E. Lawson, Harry W. Conarro, Jr.

The Scouts who have indicated an interest in serving as dispatch bearers were given their cards: Andrew McComas, James Alabaugh, Richard Bean, Charles Henderson and Richard Stone.

The 100% Boys' Life Banner was awarded to Troop No. 8. Following the ceremonies in the church, the Jefferson Class arranged to have a photograph made of the class with the Scout troop and to conclude the evening's program B. W. Knapp, representing the local council, conducted the roll call and inventory.

Garland May Have a Much-Needed Community House

(From Arch Bristow's Column in Erie Erie Dispatch-Herald)

Saturday night we had a party at the Garland school house. There was music and dancing, sweet cider in a big yellow barrel, a mountain of doughnuts, and a barrel of fun for everybody. In spite of a pouring rain that spattered on the highway so you could hardly see, there was a good attendance. Everybody had a grand time.

Now, at first glance, you may wonder why a party in a village school house, even though happy, is given most prominent position on a prominent page, in the most prominent newspaper in northwestern Pennsylvania. Wait a moment, we will explain. This was no ordinary party. It was a beginning.

For long years the boys and girls of Garland and vicinity have needed a place to get together for good times. Generation after generation has grown up, gone out into the world missing something from its youth. No place where community parties could be put on, no building where an innocent little dance party could be provided for the kids, where games might be played, dinners served, home talent plays put on. We recall, one winter's afternoon, a holiday, observing a group of our Garland boys. The store was closed. For two hours the boys stood around in front of the store, naturally attracted, even to the door of this vague center of sociability. Then they walked down and stood two hours in front of Clancy's livery barn. Then back to the store for an hour, and back to the front of the barn for another hour. No where to go. Nothing to do. It was the same yesterday, today and tomorrow. Poor boys. All this time their youth flying past.

But now the picture is going to be changed in Garland. The party at the school house had something to do with it. Because it was a sort of trial party, to see how badly the boys and girls wanted a place to have innocent good times. And did they ever appreciate it! It would have done you good to squeeze into one of those primary desk-seats and watch that dance. Even though wedged in so tight you couldn't breathe a breath, you'd have loved it. How those kids did romp. And what fine looking boys and girls we've got right now around Garland. Until we saw 'em in a bunch we never realized it.

The picture promises to change in our village. The young people and older ones too, are going to have a place to gather, and have good times. It will be the best thing that's happened to Garland since the old gray mare was a colt. Things are about to be different because of one man who came to Garland awhile ago, bought the factory, put it in operation on war essentials, and made a fine success of it. H. G. Irwin is well known in business circles. He is a big man physically and spiritually. With his factory running day and night, 100 employees, and more coming, with plenty of business on hand, as you may imagine, he found time to observe that Garland boys and girls weren't having enough fun. He has offered to put down a substantial sum for the immediate building of a Community House, and hopes the Garland people will meet him half way, or at least part way.

The party Saturday night provided plenty of proof. Garland needs a Community House. And the kids deserve it. It was Mr. and Mrs. Irwin who put on the party, providing free music, refreshments, everything. And the thing we most enjoyed was seeing Mr. Irwin himself, who looks like a United States senator, or a high dignitary of the church, stepping high wide and handsome in a dance, his partner a roly-poly little girl of 14, in green sweater and hair ribbons, who bounced about like a pretty rubber doll. hanks to H. G. Irwin, his busy factory paying the biggest wages ever dreamed of here, things look good for Garland. Short names are always best. We suggest our new community house be called "Irwin Hall."

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

Corporal Walter Bodt's squad was spring out of positions in the Pacific. We needed information badly. The squad got it, but was cut off from our lines. Using handkerchiefs tied to bayonets, Marine Corporal Bodt wiggled the information back. He lost an eye, sustained other wounds from furious enemy fire, but his message was urgent. He stuck and got it through, winning the Navy Cross. Weapons are urgent too, and your War Bonds buy them.

Old Friends on Strange Streets

OFFICERS and men of the U. S. Army call these the "fighting trucks." They move with the troops. They were built for battle. They are cross-country carriers for arms and men. They are the military team-mates of your friends, the Dodge trucks that haul milk and steel and coal in the U. S. A. They are now in battle action on many fronts. They are the result of years of close co-operation between the U. S. Army and Chrysler Corporation.

The Battle Vehicle of Mercy
Doctors, nurses and patients know these vehicles of mercy. They serve on the battle fronts. Night and day, they perform their errands of speed and risk bringing rescue and comfort with them wherever they go.

For Command and Reconnaissance
Through its two-way radio equipment, Army officers can locate and report enemy positions, can link up the fighting units of our own forces. This Command Car is low to the ground and hard to see in action.

The "Big Shot"
This big job among the fighting trucks carries larger loads of men and weapons. It is an essential mover of heavy guns as well as troop detachments with their personal weapons and supplies. These big fighters are also capable of fast stumpy-bumping travel across rough and treacherous country. They, too, have demonstrated Dodge dependability as they work, day and night, for victory in actual battle abroad.

Protected... Even if Dumped into the Sea
Pictures coming from invasion battle areas show tumbled boxes—containing vital parts for battlefield repair of fighting trucks. Repair parts are packed by Chrysler Corporation to protect them against moisture—even if dumped into the sea.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:
It seems to me that the big shots are doing a lot of talking, here in town, of how badly women are needed in industry here in Warren.

But incidentally talking is all they are doing, because if they really needed women here they would do something about it besides talk.

There are lots of women here in town who are eager to work and help out in the best way they can, but they either have one or two children and therefore cannot do so. Now if they were to start a day nursery here, they would really be surprised as to the number of people who would go to work. So how about giving them something? Surely if that would hurry the day of victory it should be worth a try or even with a good thought.

Greater Log Production Is Urged By Forestry Official

Wood is vitally needed to meet war requirements and farmers and woodlot owners are urged by the government to help in bringing the production of sawlogs, veneer, pulpwood, chemical wood and other wood products up to meet critical military and civilian war needs, R. F. Hemingway, supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest, urged.

The national wood requirements are so vital and the need so acute that the Government, with special approval of Congress, has put a special force of experienced foresters in the field to cooperate in the emergency wood production drives of public and private agencies and to help the woodland owners, mills and logging operators cut through wartime problems and get their logs to market. This service, assigned at the request of the War Production Board to the Agriculture Department's U. S. Forest Service with its many years of experience, will provide marketing assistance, cutting advice, and direct service aids to log, lumber, veneer and short wood producers in the vicinity of Allegheny National Forest.

Supervisor Hemingway pointed out that present prospects are that lumber production may fall from six to eight billion board feet short of military and civilian requirements. Reserve stocks have been drained off since 1940 for shipbuilding, cantonment construction and other military purposes, until the bottom of the inventory barrel is being reached. This year much needed farm construction and repairs, and increased needs for food containers, have been added to naval and military needs.

Overseas shipments, especially for invasion armies, are increasing and the estimated need for boxing and crating wood for these shipments alone may rise from eleven billion to nearly eighteen billion board feet, against a normal peace time lumber consumption for all purposes of around only thirty billion board feet.

The pulpwood situation is as bad, Hemingway said. Farm woodlot owners have a vital party to play in supplying pulpwood for explosives, rayon, shipping containers, and a host of other military uses.

The pith band that holds the soldier's steel helmet as well as shell cases and smokeless powder bases, are among the military needs for which wood pulp must be provided.

The War Production Board forecasts a deficit of 2,500,000 cords of pulpwood. There are urgent needs for other forest products, such as veneer logs, chemical wood, mine props and fuelwood. Millions of feet of veneer must be had for such uses as airplane fuselage covers, seats and partitions, for heating to relieve transportation facilities and make more coal and gas available for industries producing vital war materials. Winter logging is going to be a profitable way for the farmer to employ his time this year, Mr. Hemingway said, considering the favorable prices being paid. It is also a good way to provide winter work for farm labor.

Though a billion dollars worth of vegetables have been grown in Victory gardens this year, ornamental plantings are not being abandoned. Demands for fall bulbs is reported to be heavy, and while the supply is smaller than at any time since the last world war, it is being distributed among a large number of buyers.

Available bulbs are chiefly grown in the United States, and great progress has been made in producing here, all kinds of bulbs which were formerly imported. The variety so grown is remarkably large, but the quantities have been held down by labor shortage. When this limiting factor is removed, American production is expected to expand rapidly.

Encouraged by government pronouncements in favor of maintaining landscape plantings, Americans seem determined that when spring comes, their gardens shall be beautiful. Special care should be taken in planting the precious bulbs, to see that they have every chance of success, and play their full part in beautifying the garden. How deep should bulbs be planted?

In general, about four times the diameter of the bulb. The beginner should not understand by this rule that precision measurement is required, and an inch more or less may mean the success or failure of the flower.

At the same time, the planter would do well to see that his bulbs are planted approximately at the optimum depth. Tulips, for example, if planted much deeper than the recommended 5 to 6 inches (above the top of the bulb) will probably bloom, but likely later than you expect. If planted less than the recommended depth, they may also bloom, and at the right time. But should the winter be an open one, with lots of freezing and thawing, shallow-planted tulips are likely to be heaved entirely out of the ground. They certainly will be a risk.

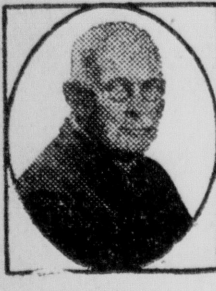

Some fall bulbs are not planted to a depth of four times their diameter. The madonna lily, usually a big bulb, should be planted only 3 or 4 inches deep. The crown imperial, a large bulb, wants shallow planting, about 2 inches. The beginner will find a chart of planting depths useful to refer to when the planting task is begun.

If the ground in which the bulbs are planted has been newly spaded, and is quite loose, the depths should be increased an inch or so, to allow for settling, and because of the increased effect of frost heaving on newly turned soil. Also, late-planted bulbs, which have no opportunity to make roots before the soil freezes, may be set a little deeper, to protect them from frost action.

Tulips should be set 5 to 6 inches deep. Narcissus need about the same depth from the top of the bulb, but owing to the different shape and sometimes the much larger size, the base of the bulbs is usually deeper than the tulips. Snowdrops and scillas should go down about 2 to 3 inches. Crocuses should have 2 inches of soil over them. The erythroniums need about 4 inches of cover. So does Fritillaria meleagris. Anemones for cold frame planting need only an inch of soil.

The lilies need the deepest planting, and most of them can go as deep as 7 to 10 inches with good results. The distance apart is rather elastic, but in general 5 inches is the closest any of them should be planted.

THE YOUTH PROBLEM

Many queries on youth problems were made by Judge Wade at the public meeting at the high school last Thursday evening but one question put by Assistant Principal R. R. Young seems particularly pertinent. Referring to the record of more than 32,000 children handled at Warren's five playground areas in the past summer, his query concerned the advisability of extending playground hours to cover the early evening.

It is an established fact that the play areas close at five o'clock, the youngsters go home for the evening meal and then descend upon the various neighborhoods in droves. It is likewise a well founded fact that much of their mischief and certainly some of the more serious depredations are planned and carried out in this twilight period.

With the playgrounds open until a later hour, much of the energy thus expended by the younger fry might be turned to some worthwhile project or supervised entertainment such as games, contests, stories about a campfire or some other program that could be worked out by school and playtime leaders.

Although next summer's playground schedule is still far in the distance, surely some cooperative program might be worked out between the park commission, school heads and recreational directors. The Times-Mirror will welcome to its columns constructive comment on the subject with an eye to lending such a project all the aid possible.

FAT SALVAGE—AGAIN

The least successful of all salvage campaigns has been that for waste fat from households. At present we are running some 8,000,000 pounds a month behind schedule.

This fat is needed to make explosives. One pound of bacon and chicken drippings will make a pound and a half of gunpowder to fill shells used by Flying Fortress gunners to repel German and Japanese attack planes. One pound of drippings from a pork roast or the suet from beef will provide explosive to fire four 37-mm. anti-aircraft shells.

We could mention other uses for explosives in war. But why should we? Everybody knows how war depends upon explosives. It isn't ignorance that makes waste fat salvage a failure. It isn't lack of patriotism. What is it? Lethargy?

Whatever it is, how about getting that fat to the butcher?

CHINESE REDS

Marshal Chiang Kai-Shek makes it clear that the Chinese Communist party has not lived up to its 1937 agreement to participate in a unified national government and give up its own independent armies.

He charges the Communist forces with assaulting national government troops and seizing territory, thus obstructing the prosecution of the war against Japan.

On the basis of reports from China in the past, many have believed that the Communists there were ardently cooperating in the attempt to free their country from Nippon. This is not the case, judging from the best information available. They have not even rested with shirking the fighting against Japan. Chiang charges them with active obstructionism.

It is to be hoped that the Reds will accept Chiang's temperate invitation to come out of the cold into a unified China.

ALL IN THE VIEWPOINT

The Allies have been handicapped from the beginning and still are, by the fact that they approach war with certain humanitarian reservations. They decline to be the first to act like savages. They refuse, often, even to prepare to repay savagery with savagery when, in the long run, such tactics would make for earlier peace.

Thus the British declined a rocket glider bomb in 1938, a year before the invasion of Poland, because its use would have involved indiscriminate destruction. The Germans had no such compunction. They are using such a weapon. But we do not even have it ready now.

If we lost the war, we might wonder whether such decency was worth while. Winning it, we can be proud of our humanness.

About time voters started showing a little interest in the election which is but a week off.

Congratulations to the Warren High School Dragons for a stunning victory over the Bradford Owls.

Better get that contribution in to the United War Fund committee.

Reports from the board of health show that Warren is a healthy place. At present there are four cases of scarlet fever, two of chickenpox, one of whooping cough and two of measles.

The Warren parcel post department has added a new truck. Business of the parcel post department is growing by leaps and bounds. The body of the truck is built especially for the carrying of mail.

I. G. Darling for six years one of the mechanics at the Russell Garage has purchased the Putnam Garage at Russell. He will take possession next Monday.

George Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Johnson, Water Street, has accepted a position as organist in the new $300,000 theater at Herkimer, N. Y.

Sousa and his band gave a concert yesterday in Library theater. He and his band are a great favorite in this city and the theater was well filled to hear the famous March King and his men.

In 1933
Warren residents were awakened about 4 a. m. Sunday morning by bursts of thunder that reverberated through the skies. Heavy rain also fell for more than an hour.

The October meeting of the Past Grand of the Odd Fellows of Warren and Forest counties was held at Tidoute with the lodge there last Wednesday. Dinner was served and the meeting that followed was devoted to the handling of some important matters.

At least 500 Scouts, Leaders and friends enjoyed the Scout Rally held Saturday in Crescent Park. The affair was highly enjoyed and Troop 42 of Ludlow captured the honors for the day.

About 50 men started work this morning on the section of sewer that will be laid from Third avenue to the mill race. It is hoped to complete the job before the weather gets too bad.

Marines are called leathernecks because in the early days of the organization a leather stock was part of the uniform.

Respect Is Not Rationed

In these days of war needs, all of us are called upon to make sacrifices—to do without the things we would consider indispensable in normal times. In serving our friends we try to make sure that such sacrifices involve only material things—not matters of the inner spirit. Respect is not rationed nor is the amount of considerate attention we give to every service—regardless of the material values involved.

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — "Living off the country" is an old military custom. Usually it means foraging, or requisitioning available foodstuffs from helpless civilians. The American Army doesn't go for that sort of thing, but thousands of U. S. soldiers abroad are living off the country just the same—and with the blessing and assistance of the War Department.

They're raising Victory gardens. For more than a year now the Quartermaster corps has been sending seeds, tools and fertilizer to remote Pacific outposts and to garisons in other parts of the world where garden-fresh vegetables help break the monotony of cans and packages.

Many Army installations in this country have Victory gardens too, but most important agricultural effort is taking place in the British Isles. There it's a joint British-American job, with the British furnishing all the equipment and supplies from stock or previously arranged lend-lease items. Both British and American soldiers work in the gardens.

In a little-publicized report, Brig. Gen. Robert A. Littlejohn, chief quartermaster for the European theater of operations, told Maj. Gen. E. B. Gregory, the quartermaster general, that all suitable land in both British and American posts, camps and sta-

Vernon Jones Has All-Bach Program In Senior Recital

The senior recital to be presented at the Warren Conservatory of Music at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday by Vernon Jones, talented Youngsville pianist, promises to be an unusually fine one. His program and numbers by those assisting are all from the writings of Johann Sebastian Bach.

Margaret C. Drivas, soprano, will sing two groups and Janet Jones and Lillian Swanson will assist in one three-piano selection.

Young Jones, leaving soon for service in the U. S. Marine Corps, has chosen the following numbers for this recital:

I. Komm Suesser Tod; Arioso; Toccata and Fugue in D Minor—Mr. Jones.

II. Art Thou With Me; Of Flow'ers the Fairest from Peasant Cantata—Mrs. Drivas.

III. Concerto in C Major—Miss Jones, Miss Swanson, Mr. Jones.

IV. Open Wide My Heart; Ave Maria—Mrs. Drivas.

V. Italian Concerto—Mr. Jones, with Miss Swanson at the second piano.

All friends of the young pianist are cordially invited to be present for the event.

Mother's Day

(somewhere in Europe)

...She was taking her little boy down to the milk depot.

A low-flying plane, marked with a Swastika, found her.

She is dead now. Mother's day is done.

What will happen to her little boy?

Who'll hold him and comfort him when he cries?

Will he find something to eat?

Where will he sleep tonight?

It's up to you. Through our community fund and the National War Fund, your contribution...your generosity can help this child and others like him in the shattered countries of the world. And it can help war-shattered families here at home...provide visiting nurses...combat juvenile delinquency.

But that's not all your giving will do. Maybe there's some mother's boy...a prisoner...behind barbed wire in a prison camp. He needs help. Maybe you have a boy away from home—in an army camp—or on patrol—far out at sea. He wants books...a game...something to help ward off loneliness. Your giving will help him because some of the money goes to the USO.

This year many of the war agencies, to which you gave last year, have joined in the National War Fund, which with your local welfare agencies seeks one generous gift from you in place of many small ones. It is united giving for a united cause...on three fronts...the home front, the military front with our armed forces, and the United Nations front.

So look deep into your heart—dig deep into your purse...and give generously...Once for All these. Add up what you gave last year...then double it!

Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat

Star Pork Sausage Patties Save Time, Points

If wartime activities leave you with less time, here's an idea that'll save minutes. . . and ration stamps, too! Try Star Pork Sausage with French Toast! It's a hearty, nutritious meat feast that you can whisk together in 20 minutes!

You'll need 1 pound of sausage to serve 4 or 5 persons. Cut the ingredients proportionately to fix a meal for fewer. When you buy the pork sausage, ask for Armour's Star Pure Pork Sausage. It's delicious, rich meat . . . tastily seasoned. And, it's made fresh every day in sausage kitchens throughout the country. Shape pork sausage into 5 or 6 patties and place in a cold frying pan. Turn heat low and fry slowly for 15 minutes, pouring off fat as it accumulates. (And here's a food saving trick: save the fat for your French toast.) Meanwhile, mix 1 cup milk with 1 beaten egg, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1 tbsp. sugar. Dip half slices of day old bread in this mixture and fry until golden brown in the sausage fat. Serve the toast with tart jelly and sausage patties.

CHANGE IN CLASS

Because the work of installing new heating equipment in the Methodist church has not been completed, tonight's session of the Warren County Leadership Training School will again be held in First Baptist church. This is the third in the series of classes and the time is seven o'clock.

TICKET SELL-OUT

The ticket committee for the Community PTA Council's Clare Tree Major plays announces a complete sell-out for the two plays scheduled for production this season. Further announcement concerning the poster contest and opening presentation will be made soon.

GO TO CONFERENCE

Althea N. Correll, director of the Warren County Girl Scout Council, left Saturday to attend pre-convention sessions of the national wartime conference of Girl Scouts being held in Cleveland, O. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Leaving today for the regular sessions were Mrs. R. W. Mackay, Mrs. F. L. Abendroth and Mrs. H. G. Stohl, Council members.

DEER ON HIGHWAY

Drivers for the Butter-Krust Bread distribution service report that deer are now running on the highway and that many are to be seen during the early morning hours. Last week James Cruickshank, driving toward Kane, came upon three deer and one of them was knocked down but scrambled to its feet and ran away. Only a short distance beyond he sighted three deer crossing the highway in front of his car. The bus drivers of the Greyhound Company coming through this section during the night also report sighting many of the animals on the highway.

WASHINGTON UNIT

A large group attended the meeting of Washington PTA at the Tiona school, when Mrs. Brennan, president, announced plans for the Clare Tree Major plays and arrangements for transporting children who held tickets. An increase in membership percentage was announced and it was decided to resume the study group in conjunction with the monthly executive meetings.

An excellent program included music by the North Warren Troubadours and a reading, "The Dream of My Big Parade," by the principal, Mrs. Sigworth. The guest speaker, Miss Mildred Van Sickle, instructress of nurses at

Success is meeting the efforts of the Manpower Commission here in recruiting 300 women for employment in seven war plants of the city. Manager David Levine this morning stated that at the present time an ample number has been enrolled but that women who desire to aid their country should call at the Employment office and enroll. There will be need of 300 additional women by December 1st, and possibly more than that number.

Harold H. Amacher, of the Advisory Committee of the Manpower Commission said today relative to the campaign which has been carried on "Knowing full well the problem that is facing industry as man after man is taken into the army I have been carefully watching the number enrolling for service in the war plants here. I know the need is great and that within a very few weeks more and more women must come forward and take the places of the men at the work benches and back up the men at the front. This is a total war and everyone is in it. We are fighting for our very existence and the women must step into the places of the men when they leave for the front. I am glad to see that our women are patriotic and that they are not lagging back but are in the forefront of the ranks that are in service at home."

Enrollments are being made every day and the Employment office feels that Warren can face any problem that arises in the local labor situation by the use of women.

Work Session For Carnival Tonight

The committee in charge of North Warren's big Halloween Carnival which opens Wednesday evening announces that a work session will be held this evening to complete decoration of the various booths and concessions. All those in charge of booths are urged to be on hand.

The committee is leaving no stone unturned in its effort to make this year's spook festival the best yet, and promises that there'll be plenty of thrill-packed surprises in store when the doors are thrown open to the public Wednesday evening.

Finley's Will Sell Shells On October 27th

Don Finley, proprietor of the Finley sporting goods store, has announced that several types of shells for 1943 hunters will be available Wednesday, October 27, at seven p. m.

Finley's, a Mecca for Warren county sportsmen for the past few years, will sell shells only to those presenting their 1943 hunting licenses and proving they are Warren county hunters.

With the severe shortage of shells this year, Mr. Finley has announced he will only be able to distribute 10 shotgun shells to a license, and five rifle and ball (rifle or regular) shells a person. Foreseeing the shell shortage, Finley has several types of rifle shells on hand for distribution on the same date. These are shells not on the WPB listing and include: 32 Remington, 32-40, 38-55, 30-40, 30-06, 25-20, 32-40, 44-40, 4570, 7 MM, 8 MM, 405 Win., 4590, 348 Win, 22 Hi Power, 250-3000 and a very limited supply of 410 shot shells, also bear balls and rifled slugs in 12 ga., 16 ga., 20 ga. and 410 ga.

The following rules govern the sale:

1. You must present your 1943 hunting license.
2. Shells will be sold to persons holding Warren county licenses only.
3. No shells will be reserved in advance.
4. Ten shotgun shells to a license while they last.
5. Five rifle shells or ball shells to a license while they last.
6. Anyone having 10 or more rifle shells or 25 or more shotgun shells need not apply for more.
7. No licenses will be sold the evening the shells are on sale.

Be a sportsman. Do not apply for shells if you have a sufficient supply. Save them for the fellow who has none. Just remember, he enjoys hunting as much as you do.

Dragons Finish Home Season With Bradford Rout

Owls Rapped 19 to 0 After Fast Beginning; Locals Shine in Aerials

Gerry Vesling's 71 Yard Run Highlights Warren's First Defeat of Bradford Since 1940 as Blue and White Bows Out on Home Games

The Warren Dragons still had the wise old Owl of Bradford to contend with Saturday afternoon on Russell Field, but they didn't give a hoot and went on to tie up their feathers with a 19 to 0 drubbing, the first in three years, before a crowd of 1800.

The locals, largely on the defensive throughout the first period, were driven back into their own territory several times in the stanza, and once, the enemy had a touchdown only four yards away, but the Blue and White held through the threat and went on to score in every period from then on.

Bradford took the kickoff on their goal line with Nuzzo carting back to their 21, and it really looked like they had the stuff to defeat the Dragons when they reeled off 6 first downs with little trouble, all on line plays right through to the Warren 4 yard stripe, but demon fumblebits took over, favoring the Dragons, and Vesling got off a 55 yard boot to take them back to another starting point on their 44.

This time the Owls met stiffer resistance and they could only take to Warren's 47, before Meabon booted. The kick glanced off Beyer's chest and only traveled four yards, giving Warren possession for the first time, after 10 minutes of play.

After trying three plays with no gain at all, Vesling stuck the Owls back deep in their territory with another healthy kick to the Bradford 10 and Nuzzo raced back to the 28. An offside penalty and two line plays wouldn't pay off and found the Owls on fourth down at their 28 as the quarter ended. In the entire period, Warren had only tried 5 plays, two of which were punts.

Bradford's Meabon kicked on the first play after the quarter to Carlson who galloped from the Warren 37 back to Bradford's 47, before getting stopped. Snyder picked up two yards to the Guard route. A pass by Vesling failed; then, Carlson lifted an aerial to Gerry Vesling to the enemy 30, for first down. Kifer added two on a plunge, then lost 2 on an attempted pass. Another offside for Bradford brought the ball to the local 27. On the next play, Kifer uncorked an aerial, this time to Chuck Adams on the 5, and he took one step and stretched out, bringing the crowd to their feet as the referee pulled three Owl men off his back and found the ball inches over for the touchdown. Snyder fumbled in his attempted line plunge for the extra, making it 6 to 0.

An exchange of punts and three intercepted passes, two on Bradford and one on Warren slowed up each team's advance the remainder of the period.

Four Teams In WPIAL Meet

Pittsburgh, Oct. 25.—(P)—Four teams continued to ride high, wide and handsome in the WPIAL Class AA football race as the result of weekend victories, but one of them is due for a tumble come Friday.

Two of the unbeaten eleven, New Castle and Clairton, will do their best to eliminate each other Friday night. The odds will be with Clairton which will be trying for its 21st consecutive victory.

Another one of the four, Turtle Creek, will face a genuine test against Donora. Brownsville is the fourth team in the undefeated category.

Six high schools still have their heads above water in the Class A championships. They are Clark, Dunbar, Dormont, Sewickley Township, Springdale and Glassport.

TOP RANKING TEAMS BEING THINNED OUT

New York, Oct. 25.—(P)—Six football teams were knocked out of the unbeaten and untied class over the weekend, thinning the select group to 16.

College of the Pacific, Southwestern of Texas, March Field, Colorado University, Minnesota and Texas Aggies were the six bumped out of the rankings. The first five were defeated while the Texas Aggies played a scoreless tie with the North Texas Aggies.

Purdue tops the remaining 16, having played six games. Notre Dame, Pennsylvania, Army, Navy, Iowa Seahawks and Southern California are close behind.

MONTGOMERY FAVORITE

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—(P)—Bob Montgomery, New York and Pennsylvania recognized lightweight champion, ruled a heavy whom he meets in a 10-round at favorite today over Petey Scalzo, Convention Hall tonight. It's a tune-up for Montgomery's title defense against Beau Jack in New York next month.

Baugh Setting Records For The Redskins

By DAVE HOFF

Chicago, Oct. 25.—(P)—Sammy Baugh is setting aerial records for the Washington Redskins and Sid Luckman is sailing the Chicago Bears to victories with his touchdown pitches. The teams with the great passers are still leading the way in the two divisions of the National Football league.

Baugh, now in his seventh season, has turned in almost unparalleled two new all-time records this fall—his lifetime total of 64 touchdowns passes, beating the 59 set by Cecil Isbell of Green Bay, and his 7,057 yards gained on passing, topping the 6,741 by Arne Herber of Green Bay.

Luckman, only a five-year man in the pro league, holds no records yet but has thrown 11 touchdowns passes in five games and has meant a lot to the Bears who are no longer supreme with their ground attack as in the old days. Baugh has pitched eight aerials for touchdowns in only three games and with seven to go is well on the way to breaking Isbell's record of 24 for a season. He threw to Joe Aguirre for one Redskins score yesterday and his aerials paved the way for another touchdown by Andy Farkas, that provided a 13 to 7 victory over the ambitious but still unwilling Chicago Cardinals.

Luckman threw 22 passes yesterday against the Brooklyn Dodgers and completed 15, two to George Wilson for touchdowns, as his contribution to a 33 to 21 Chicago win over Pete Cawthon's boys.

Luscious Tidbits Top Grid Program Coming Weekend

By TED MEIER

New York, Oct. 25.—(P)—Army vs. Penn and Notre Dame vs. Navy, two of the most luscious tidbits of the season, top Saturday's college football program.

For weeks pigskin fanatics have been hoping that these four teams—ranked with Purdue as the first five in the country—would reach October 30 unbeaten and untied. Now that their dreams have been fulfilled the demand for tickets to see the games at Franklin Field in Philadelphia and at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium can be expected to increase daily. By kickoff time it is likely that 80,000 will be on hand at Cleveland and 70,000 at Philadelphia—virtual sell-outs.

In the final "tuneups" Penn thumped Columbia, 33-0; Army walked over Yale, 39-7; Notre Dame crushed Illinois, 47-0; and Navy beat Georgia Tech, 28-14, scoring two touchdowns in the last period to shatter a 14-1 tie.

These scores compare with Army's earlier 52-0 rout of Columbia, Penn's 41-7 victory over Yale and Notre Dame's 55-13 conquest of Georgia Tech.

Elsewhere Saturday's chief developments included Southern

California's 6-0 last period defeat of college of the Pacific before 75,000 and Michigan's running riot, 49-6, against Minnesota.

Washington trounced highly regarded March Field, 27-7, while Purdue and Tony Gutowich exploded for three touchdowns in the last quarter to beat Iowa, 28-7.

In the east, Colgate scored an unexpected 20-7 victory over Cornell while in the south, the Louisiana State Tigers, on the prowl for an Orange Bowl invite, crushed Georgia, 27-6, as Steven Van Buren rolled up 20 points on three touchdowns and two conversions.

The undefeated Texas Aggies lost prestige in being held to a scoreless tie by North Texas Aggies as Tulane beat Southern Methodist, 12-6, on Jim Shiver's 57-yard run. Unbeaten Tulsa got a good workout in whipping Utah, 55-0, while Nebraska upset favored Kansas, 7-6 on Walt Wilkins' 65-yard punt return.

Northwestern and Otto Graham blanked Ohio, 13-0, the first shut-out for the Buckeyes under Coach Paul Brown, while Colorado College beat Colorado University, 16-6, and southwestern, of Texas, took a 27-6 drubbing from Southwestern of Louisiana.

Covering the Sports Front

—WITH— BOB JOHNSON

In Warren's defeat of the mighty Pflug-coached Bradford Owls for the first time in three years, and only for the second time in ten years, the Dragons have bowed out as far as home games are concerned in fine style.

Shaping a pea-green team into an aggressive mauler was a hard job for cagy J. B. Leidig and, with what he had to start with, he's done a masterful performance.

Defeated by Erie Academy in the first tilt of the year, 26 to 0, the Dragons never proved they had a lot on the ball until the Jamestown tilt, when they fought hard and only tough breaks caused the 7 to 6 score, which shouldn't have been worse than a tie.

Of course, they were taken through the ropes by Titusville—and they played like sandlotters for sure that day—but as a whole they came out of the fire with a string of glory to carry through to their successors of 1944.

To a fellow who hadn't seen the Dragons play all year and decided to take in the Bradford game... When told that Jim Snyder, pile-driving fullback for Warren, had only played one year of football in his life, he couldn't believe it.

Everybody likes the way Jim runs that ball... He doesn't simply pile into the line and hope there's a hole there for him, but deftly slides in the rear until there is an opening, then smashes with all his 155-pound power and usually goes through standing up... He doesn't look like he's going fast, but some of his opponents say he's the hardest man to stop they've ever seen yet.

Sure, Warren has a bunch of athletes on its football team—McLeans, Veslings, Kifers and plenty of naturals—but Snyder deserves a lot of credit both for being a guy whom everybody on the squad likes and for coming up from a smaller town to crash the football spotlight and land on the varsity in one year.

Warren plays its finale at Ridgway next Saturday at 3:00 p. m. on the Elkers' home field... It'll be worth watching for anybody... They have one of the best teams they've had in a decade.

Don't forget Finley's Wednesday evening for that allotment of shells—you may not get any more... He has a wide selection to offer... 7:00 p. m.

Hal Lewis' son is playing on the Salisbury (Conn.) varsity team this year... Received quite a writeup in the town's paper recently for his performance at right guard.

Don Linquist, formerly of Warren and now working in Chicago, walked into the Cardinal-Packer duel a couple of weeks ago and the first person he saw in the midst of 30,000 fans was Jerry Waxman, also of this burg... He says Hutson looks less like a football player than anyone he's ever seen, but when he reaches up for that ball on a forward, it's in... That's all there is to it.

In another action, AFL union leaders threatened a strike over the War Labor Board decision awarding five cents an hour wage increase to 3,500 Los Angeles railway and motor coach employees. They asked 10 cents. A petition for a strike vote among the employees will be filed with the national labor relations board, the AFL said.

A pessimistic view of the coal supply came meanwhile from a joint British-American board surveying Allied requirements. The report said Britain is 30,000 miners short, the U. Game Commission Receives Numerous Unusual Questions

By RALPH E. WALLIS
Harrisburg, Oct. 25.—(P)—Troubled with squirrels in the attic? Or maybe you're seeking a friendly way of evicting a skunk from the cellar—write the Pennsylvania Game Commission. In addition to issuing licenses both hunters and their quarry, the commission operates an information bureau which calls for answers to such questions as: "How can we get rid of squirrels in our attic? We can't sleep." "Nuts," the commission told the Ardmore inquirer, "should be used to bait an ordinary rat trap and wham—you've caught a squirrel." To a western Pennsylvania writer who wanted to know how to ease a skunk out of his cellar without repercussions, the commission advised placing a plank from the floor to the window and assured him the furry tenant would walk out unassisted. Charles F. Stambaugh, chief law enforcement clerk, said he can't always help those who write in, and explained a soldier on furlough wanted permission to hunt "just one day" before the game season opened because he was due to go overseas. "That would take a special act of legislature and we had to turn him down," said Stambaugh. He also explained to a "1-A" registrant it was impossible for the commission to redeem a hunting license if he was inducted into the armed forces before the big game season opened.

Stambaugh wrote "no" to such question as "is it lawful to sell deer tails in Pennsylvania?" and "are there any mule deer in this state?"

Auto Crashes Send Seven To Hospital For Emergency Care

As a result of automobile accidents on Saturday night and early Sunday morning seven persons received treatment at the Warren General Hospital. None were seriously injured as the last of the persons admitted were discharged on Sunday.

The first of the series of crashes took place on Market street, near the Presbyterian church about 11:15 Saturday night, Adam H. Andregg, 10 Jackson street, North Warren was driving north on Market street when a car coming south approached. Mrs. Andregg fearful that the cars would crash grabbed the wheel causing Mr. Andregg to lose control of the car. It crashed into a pole and damaged the car to the extent of about $100. Mrs. Andregg was taken to the hospital. She had brush burns on both knees and an X-ray was made of her head for possible skull injuries. She was discharged Sunday.

About 12:30 a. m. F. E. Schumann, 3 Locust street started to make a left turn into Park avenue when his car crashed with one driven by Joseph P. Tutmaher. Tutmaher, who resides in Chandlers Valley was driving west on the avenue. It is alleged that he did not have his lights on when the crash came. He denied this allegation as did passengers in his car. Schumann sustained some severe hurts in the crash having a deep cut on the chin, an injury to his chest and a fracture of the lower jaw. An X-ray was also made to determine the extent of injuries to his left wrist.

Arnold Maeder, 325 Park Avenue, a passenger in the car of Schumann had several cuts, three teeth knocked out and brush burns. He was discharged Sunday.

Elaine Henning, Youngsville Rd. 1, also in the Tutmaher car had an injury to the left foot, fingers on the right hand cut and abrasions and brush burns. She was treated at the hospital.

Carl Eckert, of Chandlers Valley, also in the Tutmaher car had a severe bump on his forehead.

Tutmaher had a cut on the left temple, cuts and burns about the face and was given treatment at the hospital.

Helen Amacher, Sugar Grove Rd. 1, who was also in the Tutmaher car escaped any injuries.

Another crash on Pennsylvania avenue, near the Warren Bank and Trust sent two to the hospital who were discharged after treatment. James C. Fleming, of Youngsville stopped at the point of the bank building and then pulled out. His vision was obscured by parked cars and he drove into the car of James Higgenbotham, Warren Rd. 3. Fleming admitted being in fault and assumed liability. Miss Shirley Daugherty, Russell and Michael Lyons, of Youngsville, passengers in the cars were slightly hurt and were treated at the hospital. Miss Daugherty sustained a cut over one eye and Lyon suffered from shock.

Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. Guy Kiffer, Warren Rd. 1 struck Charles Aldinger age 12 while driving on Pennsylvania avenue, east. The boy was knocked down and was removed to a physician's office for treatment. He was not seriously injured.

G-GIRL By LYDIA GRAY SHAW

Chapter 5
ROOM 4B, 1918 Nineteenth Street, N.W., was home to Sally almost immediately. There wasn't any chance to feel homesick; her three high-spirited roommates kept up a constant banter that both amazed and amused Sally. They looked on this whole difficult business of making a living in wartime Washington as a huge lark.
Yes, they didn't have much money, but there were lots of places to go in Washington with an empty pocketbook. There was Mellon Art Gallery, with its superlative rotunda of deep-green marble. In the summer there were concerts at the Sylvan Theater, a beautiful semi-circle carved out of the green hillside. Once in a while, when there was a little spare cash, the girls witnessed the opening of one of the season's new plays from 55-cent seats high up in the National Theater.
The energy of her roommates astounded Sally. Meg, the only one of the trio married—her husband was on a destroyer somewhere in the Atlantic—spent most of her free time in a Nurse's Aide uniform. With a box of crackers in her pocket she went direct from work to Children's Hospital three nights a week.
Dippy, the curly-haired girl who had greeted her, was studying history at American University. Said Dippy, "I haven't been to college and I'll probably never live long enough to get a degree now, but anyway I'd like to find out how the world got into this mess." Dippy looked like the last person in the world to be going to night school, but she went. Frances was musical and sang in a church choir, pocket-rehearsing strenuously for its May cantata. "Thank goodness she doesn't try to practice here," said Dippy.
STANDING in line for her customary sandwich and carton of milk in the seething War Commission cafeteria, Sally reflected how her exuberant roommates made her feel with only a job to hold down. She had to admit the girls were smart. If your leisure hours were as care-

G-GIRL By LYDIA GRAY SHAW

Chapter 6
That's all I've been here. How do the regular nurses stand a full shift? Changing wearily back to street clothes in the locker room down in the nurses' home, she wondered if she'd live to get home to bed. Her feet felt swollen to twice their size. She winced as she eased her feet into her spec-tacular pumps carefully. If she only didn't have to stand up on the street car! There were two changes to make too before she could get home.
She was too weary to focus on anyone as she waited on the narrow safety platform for the street car, until a familiar voice spoke behind her. "If it isn't the glam-our girl! I begin to think you're shadowing me."
Sally didn't even turn around. "Go away."
The sandy-haired doctor came around in front of her, halting, his coat collar turned up around his neck. Sally couldn't see his face clearly in the shadowy light, but she didn't want to see it. His usual sardonic expression was all too familiar. "Won't talk, eh? Don't you even want to fight?"
"No."
"What a congenial soul! By the way, what are you doing in front of my hospital?"
"Your hospital?" Sally came to sudden life. "Are you on the Emergency staff?"
"I certainly am. Right now, I'm almost the only doctor there not on crutches. Though I don't know why your sudden interest."
"Oh, my soul, I guess I'll have to be transferred," Sally groaned. "Transferred to what?"
"I just started as a Nurse's Aide at Emergency. It never occurred to me you'd be there to sneer at me every time I went on duty."
The doctor whistled softly. "A Nurse's Aide! Lady, do you know what you're in for?"
Sally was too weary to think of any brilliant responses. "I have a rough idea. I just got initiated."
"You amaze me." The doctor shook his head, looking down into Sally's tired face. She wasn't a glamour girl, really. Pretty, but not striking. He knew at least half a dozen better-looking girls. But she had a sparkle that set her apart from the crowd—especially when she was angry. Which mainder of the quarter, and although the Dragons drove to the Owls' 23 late in the session, an intercepted pass by Nuzzo after Kiffer had done the same thing to get them down there, halted the advances and the half ended at 6 to 0, favoring Warren.

Harry Summer's fine band, wearing the colors of Blue and White, stepped up the attraction at half-time with a brilliant array of marching technique, forming a B. for Bradford, V. for Vesling, M. for Meabon, drawing a great hand from the fans.
Unleashing a ground and air barrage at the start of the final half, Warren picked up a first down after Vesling returned the kickoff from the local 20 to 38. Snyder sailed through the line 10 yards on the first play and Vesling took up 8 more yards of slack with a plunge, but a Warren fumble halted the drive on Bradford's 47. Nuzzo, fleet quarterback for the Owls, racked up another first down on the first play to Warren's 41, but after two more tries, Jay V. hite, brainy guard of Warren, recovered a Meabon mis-sue on the local 29. Another intercepted local pass and a return on Salsby Zobrest's fumble recovery started Warren's second touchdown drive from the 50.
Two Carlson passes, one to Adams and another to Charley McLean, brought the oval to Bradford's 5, from where three plunges by Jim Snyder counted the score at 12 to 0 as conversion failed, giving the Dragons a healthy edge on their all-time rivals.
The third session ended with Bradford in possession on their 44 but the salt had been taken from their fighting blood and with seven plays only advancing to the Warren 45, Meabon booted to the local 20. This was the highlight of the game, as Vesling, crack wingback for the Dragons, tore through Bradford's forward wall on the first play, around to the Warren sidelines and with perfect interference and broken-field stepping paced off 71 yards to the enemy 9, before Nuzzo managed to grab an arm and bring him down.
Tightening up their line in a beautiful deception maneuver, the Dragons pulled off a reverse on the following play, with Dean Kiffer carrying, and made an end sweep for the final counter and Jim Snyder tore through the line for the extra point, boarding it at 19 to 0.

The Owls, with VonCarlowitz playing masterful football, and supported ably by Meabon and Nuzzo, ripped off two more first downs after the kickoff in a valiant attempt to score, from their 34, to the local 28, but McLean intercepted a pass to stem the assault. With Vesling, Lucia and Snyder totting, Warren brought the ball back deep into the Owls' land again and added four more first downs, to the 27, but passes failed in a final scoring threat and Bradford took over with Nuzzo tearing off another first down at the whistle and bringing the ball 23 yards to the 50.
In their 19 to 0 victory over the mighty Owls, the Dragons were outgained on the ground, and in first downs but they had this one on the pan all week and with a fighting spirit, comparable to Oil City's defeat here, took advantage of their frequent breaks and added some pretty football to win over this formidable foe.
Outstanding on the line for Warren were Zobrest, Pay White, McLean, Adams and Sirianni as they made the Owls fight for everything they got while each contributed to the victory by recovering fumbles or playing all-around heads-up ball in stopping plays. Snyder and Vesling were the spotlighters in the backfield with their aggressive play. Snyder for his amazing gains through the center of the line, while Vesling's bow was in distance punting and good offensive action.

DVEASTATE LARGE AREA

London, Oct. 25.—(P)—RAF Mosquitos bombed targets in the Ruhr and Rhineland last night, the British announced today as the Berlin radio hinted at the start of a crunching two-way Allied aerial squeeze on Germany by declaring that American four-engine bombers based in Italy had attacked southern Germany, Austria and Hungary yesterday.

A brief air ministry communique announcing the RAF raids gave no details of the overnight operations, which also included mine-laying in enemy waters. All planes were said to have returned safely.

The American attacks yesterday reported by the Berlin radio apparently were on a heavy scale.

Allied confirmation and full details of this daylight flight, presumably across the Adriatic mountains of Yugoslavia, were not forthcoming immediately but the German broadcasts gave every indication the attack was a big surprise and was carried out in great force.

It came at the very moment when a major new development was being unfolded in Britain for the two-direction air attack against Germany, the installation on British bases of squadrons of P-38 Lightning fighters equipped with extra fuel tanks to give them a range of 1,100 miles.

In the Berlin broadcast, the German news agency DNB declared that 300 heavy bombers escorted by 200 fighters attacked unspecified towns in Germany and Austria, explaining that targets in the Austrian province of Styria were among the objectives and that at one place "major damage was caused."

If true, this would constitute the first time an air blow has been struck at the Reich itself from the south by planes based in Italy.

The German agency described the attacking force as "large formations" of four-engine bombers and added:

"Bombs were dropped over a fairly large area between Vienna and the northern approaches to the Alps."

A Budapest report suggested yesterday's operation was a shut-

Fifth Army Front Scene Of Violent Mountain Battles

Advance of American Forces, Witnessed By General Eisenhower, Places Troops North of Stoutly Defended Regia Canal

BRIDGEHEAD ACROSS TRIGNO RIVER IS ENLARGED

By WES GALLAGHER

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 25.—(P)—Violent mountain battles flared on the Fifth Army front in Italy today as the result of an Allied drive of three miles that took the vital rail and road junction of Sparanise, 13 miles from the western coast.

The advance of the Fifth Army, witnessed by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower while on a tour of the front, placed the American and British troops north of the stoutly defended Regia defense canal leading to the sea and imperiled the position of the Nazi troops in that area.

The Germans launched counter-attack after counter-attack in an effort to relieve their position.

The entire tempo of the war in the sea and air stiffened as American heavy bombers blasted southern Austria and raided the airfield at Tirana, Albania, a second time.

On the Eighth Army's eastern front, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's men poured into an enlarged bridgehead across the Trigno river to attack German positions beyond.

On the Fifth Army front heavy German counter attacks flared east from Sparanise toward Pignatone and Maggiora. American troops smashed back four Nazi assaults in 24 hours.

The Fifth Army advance in a mountainous area overlooking the coast constituted a severe threat to the inland road junction town of Isernia and eventually the rear of the German Massico Ridge line.

Sparanise, captured by the Fifth Army, is about seven miles north of the Volturno near the center of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's line, and four miles due west of Pignatone, in Allied hands for several days.

The advances of the Eighth Army posed an increasing threat to the inland road junction town of Isernia and eventually the rear of the German Massico Ridge line. The rail yards and aircraft factory at Pistoia near Florence were bombed last night, and other communications lines at Fomina on the west coast and nearby Minturno were blasted again.

In turn the Germans struck again at Naples, now being converted into an Allied supply port, and 15 Nazi planes were shot down yesterday, mostly in sky tangles over Italy. Three of them were bombers which accepted to raid Naples.

The Germans stepped up their air defenses by throwing at least 60 fighters against the Allied attackers.

American Flying Fortresses and Liberators, flying for the time with the escort of long-range P-38 Lightnings from Italian bases for a foray over actual territory of the Reich, made the stag into southern Austria.

The big bombers encountered bad weather, however, so that they could not report an accurate observation of results.

B-25 Mitchells, sweeping over the Adriatic for a second surprise attack, carried out the mission to Tirana and destroyed a number of grounded aircraft.

Australian Kittybombers also streaked across the Adriatic and bombed landing craft on the Yugoslav coast in the sheltered channel between Korcula island and the mainland and set a 2,000-ton ship smoking in Korcula harbor, north-west of Dubrovnik. A troop-laden launch also was set afire.

RECTOR RESIGNS

Greensburg, Oct. 25.—(P)—The Rev. Thomas H. Carson, rector of Christ Episcopal church here since 1941, has resigned, effective Nov. 25, to become dean of St. Stephen's Cathedral, Harrisburg. He will succeed the Very Rev. J. Thomas Heistand, who recently became bishop of the Harrisburg diocese.

Washington, Oct. 25.—(P)—Six big coal mines producing industrial fuel resumed production with less than normal crews today as officials of the United Mine Workers of America predicted an early termination of the unauthorized walkout of nearly all of this state's 22,000 union miners.

The mines, most of which had been idle since Oct. 13 or 14, provide coal for the fuel-shy steel and iron plants here.

James H. Terry, international UMW representative, said he believed "the march back to the mines will grow with rest of the men going to work by mid-week."

Sayreton, Dolomite and other UMW locals voted to go back to work at meetings yesterday. (Turn to Page Nine)

SEVERAL SHIPS SUNK

Allied Headquarters, Oct. 25.—(P)—Japanese forces which for a week struggled to break through Australian lines to reach the New Guinea coast near Finschhafen have been whittled down and thrust back into the jungle-matted hills.

Allied bombers and fighters and hardened Australian jungle troops crushed the enemy's efforts with coordinated blows.

Four Japanese attacks were repulsed Saturday. Australians hurled back the attackers with heavy losses and kept their hold on Katika village, which has changed hands four times this month.

A communique said the Japanese apparently had hoped to open a route to the sea either to escape or to receive supplies.

Senator Opens Debate on Post War Proposal

Washington, Oct. 25.—(P)—Opening one of the U. S. senate's most important debates in this generation Senator Connally (D-Tex.) declared today the hour has struck for America to show that its might would be dedicated to world peace and against aggression henceforth.

The chairman of the foreign relations committee took the floor to urge adoption of his resolution that the United States "join with free and sovereign nations in the establishment and maintenance of international authority with power to prevent aggression and to preserve the peace of the world."

With every indication pointing to eventual approval of the resolution by an overwhelming vote, Connally told an intent senate: "Isolation has failed. Let us try collective security."

THREE DIE IN EXPLOSION OF EASTON PLANT

Seventy-Five Thousand Persons and Score of War Plant Without Fuel as Result of Blast

LOSS IS $500,000.00

Easton, Oct. 25.—(P)—Seventy-five thousand persons and more than a score of war plants in Easton and surrounding towns were without fuel for cooking, heating and industrial purposes today, following a Sunday morning explosion and fire that destroyed a large part of the Easton gas works.

Saying a "serious health problem" existed, Mayor Joseph Morrison proclaimed an emergency last night and pleaded for all possible speed in restoring service.

The blast took a toll of three lives, injured 19 persons seriously enough to require hospitalization, and caused minor injuries to scores of others who were treated in their homes and at stations set up by the Red Cross disaster committee.

Mayor Morrison said $500,000 would be a conservative estimate of the damage. Windows were broken as far as two miles away, and 25 homes near the plant were condemned because of damage.

Emergency kitchens established by the Red Cross will remain in operation as long as needed, Mayor Morrison announced. He appealed to persons having coal, electric or bottled gas cooking facilities to aid in feeding their neighbors.

The dead men were John Kiehl of Dunmore, Pa., a truck driver who was delivering a load of oil to the plant where the blast occurred, and Henry Jordan and Floyd Transue, both of Easton, gas works employees. Both bodies were removed from the wreckage. Transue died early this morning in Easton Hospital.

Oscar E. Benson, area manager for the utility, said there was no way of knowing when normal service could be restored. He hoped, with the help of engineers from New York and Reading, to have some sort of emergency service in operation in 48 hours, he said at a conference with city officials.

Residents of the 25 condemned homes found shelters with neighbors, while the rest of the 1,000 persons evacuated from the blast area returned to their damaged residences.

Diplomatic experts meanwhile were setting down in black and white the points agreed upon by representatives of the United States, Russia and Britain at the conference.

The discussions proceeded amid growing signs in the Soviet press that the Russians considered a coalition of the three powers as necessary for future world peace, the plain-spoken publication "War and the Working Class" asserting that "a combination of any two of them should not stand alone."

The nature of the documents to be drafted by the experts was not disclosed, but it was learned that U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov already had begun deliberating on (Turn to Page Nine)

Scottsdale, Oct. 25.—(P)—Fire which may have started from a cigarette smoked in bed snuffed out the lives of Pearl Fulmer, 23, and his two-year-old daughter, Patricia Ann, yesterday at their home in nearby old Bethany.

The father and daughter had suffered minor injuries in an auto collision near Scottsdale and had been sent home by police in another car.

Scottsdale firemen said Fulmer apparently put the child to bed and then lay down beside her, smoking a cigarette. His death was attributed to suffocation; hers to burns and shock.

Firemen, who extinguished the flames and discovered the tragedy, said two dogs also perished in the fire.

Butler, Oct. 25.—(P)—Arthur J. Miller, 40, of McKees Rocks, has notified Allegheny county authorities it was not his body that was fished out of the Allegheny river Oct. 5, despite an identification by his estranged wife, based on a missing little finger. Miller, who left McKees Rocks shortly before the body was found, said he has been employed painting the state police barracks here.

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, Oct. 25.—(P)—Marshal Joseph Stalin received Cordell Hull, U. S. secretary of state today as the tripartite conference of war and post-war problems moved into its seventh day.

There was no indication of the subjects covered in the talk between the Soviet leader and the 72-year-old secretary of state, highest U. S. official ever to visit the Soviet Union. Stalin last week had talked with Anthony Eden, Hull's British counterpart.

Diplomatic experts meanwhile were setting down in black and white the points agreed upon by representatives of the United States, Russia and Britain at the conference.

Rail Transportation and Coal Production Hang in Balance As Strikes Are Threatened

By the Associated Press

Washington, Oct. 25.—Continued rail transportation and coal production hung in the balance today, threatened by strikes over wages. The War Production Board foresaw crippling results in steel plants, shipyards and munitions factories unless the situation eases quickly.

The soft coal problem, raised because the United Mine Workers are without a contract with the operators, was complicated further by reports that the War Labor Board, (WLB) was cool to a proposed "model" plan.

The WLB, trustworthy sources said, is not likely to approve the union-backed "model"—a contract with the Illinois Soft Coal Operators Association raising wages in effect $1.50 a day. An alternate formula, calling for $1.12½ a day more may be suggested by the board. This knowledge came out of weekend conferences in which the board explored the subject extensively.

The weekend parleys were impelled by the rapid disaffection in the coal fields after the government returned the mines to private ownership after a summer of federal control. Approximately 35,000 of the 500,000 soft coal miners laid down their tools. The UMW urged the men to return today, pending a settlement of the wage demands.

A back-to-work movement started last night.

The rail employment problem meantime neared a crisis. The five operating unions prepared for a strike vote among 350,000 workers who demanded a minimum wage boost of $3 a day. A federal emergency board recommended an increase of four cents an hour. The strike vote will require about 30 days.

In conjunction, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen demanded a sweeping revision of working rules for its membership. The president and wage committee (Turn to Page Nine)

Blessings of Pope Sent to Diocese

Pittsburgh, Oct. 25.—(P)—The blessing of Pope Pius XII was bestowed upon churchmen and the laity of the Pittsburgh Catholic diocese today at a pontifical high mass commemorating the 100th anniversary of the diocese.

The Pope granted his blessing through Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Coggiani, apostolic delegate to the United States. Bishop Hugh C. Boyle, assisted by six priests, celebrated the mass in St. Paul's cathedral.

The diocese has grown in its 100 years to rank eighth in population among the dioceses of the nation, the Rev. Paul E. Campbell, pastor of St. Lawrence's church, said in his centennial sermon.

"The mere physical development of the diocese," he said, "does not make our faith more sincere nor more secure, but we must note a growth far beyond the fondest dreams of the hardy pioneers who came first to the missionary field of Pittsburgh."

He was the first witness after a court crier holding aloft a staff topped with a gold crown opened the second week of the slender De Marigny's trial on the charge that he hammered his millionaire father-in-law on the head last July and left him to die on a burning bed.

In the cell-like prisoner's dock, De Marigny solemnly watched the (Turn to Page Two)

Young Woman Found Slain In Apartment

New York, Oct. 25.—(P)—A diary and two address books furnished police their principal clues today in the slaying of a 22-year-old estranged wife of an RCAF cadet bludgeoned to death in a locked bedroom of her lavishly appointed apartment in the Beekman Hill section.

The unlaid body of Mrs. Patricia Burton Loneragan, mother of a year and one-half old son, was discovered by Marine Captain Peter Elser, described as a former Harvard football star when he called to keep a dinner date last night.

The woman was sprawled across a bed with her face to one side, her arms raised as if to ward off a blow, police said. She apparently had been beaten on the head with an antique brass candlestick, found lying nearby on the floor.

Police said the last time Mrs. Loneragan was seen alive was at 4:30 a. m. yesterday when she returned after visiting several nightclubs with a man who was questioned last night by detectives.

The door to the third-floor bedroom was locked from the inside, police reported, and Capt. Elser forced it open after Mrs. Loneragan failed to put in her appearance. (Turn to Page Nine)

MUCH BOOTY CAPTURED

London, Oct. 25.—(P)—The Red Army sledgehammer threatened today to drive another spike in the Nazi Crimean "ciffin" as the onrushing Russians swept to within six miles of the iron and rail city of Krivoy Rog in the center of the Dnieper river loop and rolled an equal distance past captured Melitopol.

The mighty Soviet offensive, described as a "steamroller" by the fleeing Germans themselves, engulfed 50 villages, killed 2,000 Germans and swept up huge amounts of booty, forcing the German high command to an admission of "retreat" in unequivocal terms.

A Russian communique broadcast from Moscow announced the capture of Losovatska, six miles north of Krivoy Rog, and said another Soviet column, rushing on six miles southwest of Melitopol, had taken the railway station of Tashchenak, on the railway to the Crimea.

The communique, recorded by the Soviet Monitor, also told of the capture of seven German strongpoints south of Rechitsa as Nazi counterattacks failed to halt a Russian flanking drive on Gomel in White Russia.

More than 6,500 Germans were said to have been killed or routed between the Sea of Azov and the Crimean, and Nazi armament falling into the hands of the Russians included more than 71 tanks, 243 machine guns and 52 guns as well as stores of ammunition and other equipment.

As Moscow reports said that the Germans were getting panicky in the Crimea, where their garrison has been estimated at 100,000, the Paris radio said "the dangerous position of the German armies in southern Russia can only be retrieved if some artificial defense line exists somewhere in the Nogaisk steppe."

88 Lives Lost In Tanker Collision

Palm Beach, Fla., Oct. 25.—(P)—Four of the 28 survivors of a tanker collision which claimed 88 lives off the Florida coast, last Wednesday remained hospitalized today but their condition was termed good by the commanding officer of the army general hospital.

Col. Charles Demmer, commanding officer at the hospital, said the men would recover.

The northbound tanker was laden with aviation gasoline that exploded and spread over both ships, was still burning today after drifting about 20 miles and striking bottom almost atop a freighter sunk by enemy submarines nearly two years ago. The bodies of its dead were still aboard.

The other tanker has been floated and towed to port. It had 28 bodies on board.

Three Important Days Remain To Complete War Fund Drive

Three days only remain.

Three days—in the Warren County United War Fund drive.

Three days—in which workers must contact the remaining prospects and present a completed report to Section Chairmen.

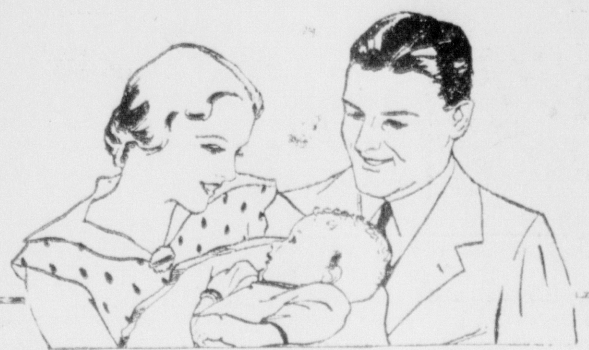

Three days—in which Chairmen will check to see that each worker has presented a complete report and then compile a final report to be turned in to the Divisional Chairmen.

Three days—in which Divisional Chairmen must secure completed reports from all Section Chairmen to have ready for final presentation to the General Committee.

These three days will probably be the most dramatic of any similar period in the history of Warren County campaigns. This is due to the fact that the goal of the campaign, $88,700, is the largest in a quarter of a century. At the First Report Meeting on Thursday of last week, only $22,892.38 of this enormous total had been pledged. In other words, about

Pittsfield, Oct. 18.—The Ladies' Aid of the U. B. church was held in the church dining room on Thursday. Following the thirteen dinner the business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. W. McIntyre. Plans are being made for a Christmas bazaar.

The P. T. A. tea for the benefit of Mrs. Wall's grades 1 and 2 was a fine success, socially and financially. The room was decorated with art work, safety first and autumn fruits done by second grade pupils and cutting and pasting autumn flowers and notebooks in the making by pupils of first grade. Those coming early saw the pupils at work at reading, work book coloring and singing. After the pupils were dismissed a social time and refreshments were enjoyed. Pupils and visitors were interested to hear Mrs. Wall tell of the big black bear she had seen near the Scandia Rocks on her way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Herrington had as their dinner guests on Sunday their son, William, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ledebur of Titusville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson and son have moved to Youngsville.

Miss Veronica McGraw, who entered St. Vincent's Hospital, Erie, in September to train as a nurse, spent the weekend at her home here with her mother, Mrs. Mary McGraw, and her brother, Ernest McGraw.

Miss Myrtle Norman, who teaches in Akron, O., spent the weekend here. She has closed her summer home here and her mother, Mrs. N. Thompson, has gone to spend the winter with her daughter in Youngsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Cady enjoyed a weekend visit from their children, Mr. and Mrs. Brown and baby, and Allie, Jr. of Buffalo. Mrs. Anna Hamilton and daughters, Leona and Velma, from Meadville, and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Osgood of Endeavor were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Osgood.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Lindquist of Akeley were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albin Abraham and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McIntyre entertained at a family dinner in honor of their son, Carl, who leaves on the 20th for the service of Uncle Sam.

A circus camped on the P. R. R. station grounds. The horses and the four elephants were taken from the trucks and allowed to graze. This pleased the local children very much.

About 250 suppers were served by Our Boys Service Club for the benefit of Christmas boxes for the boys. At the regular meeting of this club last Monday, 25 boxes were displayed ready to send overseas. Each contained a Christmas card, a pair of woolen socks and a combination sewing and shoe shining kit. The boxes for the navy will be sent a little later, and those for all the boys in this country still a little later.

As Dr. Sayad left the stand, Dr. Marign was taken from his dock for a brief visit to the police station. The two men met at the door, and Dr. Marign patted the physician on the back. They shook hands.

Nancy, unable to enter the courtroom because she will testify later in her husband's defense, had a long telephone conversation yesterday with her mother, Lady Eunice Oakes.

The widow arrived from the United States Saturday to testify against her son-in-law, Nancy was at the airport to meet her, but Lady Oakes left by a side door without knowing that her daughter was in the waiting room.

IRVINE

Irvine, Oct. 21.—People reading the paper may think Irvine has fallen off the map, but far from it. If anyone thinking so just take a run through town and count the cars parked in town and on the Forge property, they will soon have a different idea and watch the men and women coming out from work especially at 3 p. m.

Mrs. W. C. Abplanalp and Mrs. Mendel Lawson started for Jamestown Wednesday, Oct. 13th. They were joined at Youngsville by Mrs. Clair Hendrickson when they went on their way to Jamestown where their club was entertained to a delicious one o'clock dinner by Mrs. Kenneth Crispell. A very pleasant afternoon is reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Nulph have gone into their home on Hazel St. Mrs. Nulph who underwent a serious operation some time ago at the Cleveland Clinic has been staying since at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wing on Erie Ave. Glad she is improving so well. Miss Evelyn Ransom of Spring Creek is staying with her and going to Youngsville school.

the raid, with the bombers coming from newly-captured airfields at Foggia and flying on to bases in England after the attack.

United States Marauders, which are setting up an enviable knock-out record of enemy targets, blasted three airfields yesterday within a 60-mile radius of Paris and returned without loss in a mission that may be the forerunner of raids far deeper into Europe by these fast twin-engine medium bombers.

THE YOUTH PROBLEM

Many queries on youth problems were made by Judge Wade at the public meeting at the high school last Thursday evening but one question put by Assistant Principal R. R. Young seems particularly pertinent. Referring to the record of more than 32,000 children handled at Warren's five playground areas in the past summer, his query concerned the advisability of extending playground hours to cover the early evening.

It is an established fact that the play areas close at five o'clock, the youngsters go home for the evening meal and then descend upon the various neighborhoods in droves. It is likewise a well founded fact that much of their mischief and certainly some of the more serious depredations are planned and carried out in this twilight period.

With the playgrounds open until a later hour, much of the energy thus expended by the younger fry might be turned to some worthwhile project or supervised entertainment such as games, contests, stories about a campfire or some other program that could be worked out by school and playtime leaders.

Although next summer's playground schedule is still far in the distance, surely some cooperative program might be worked out between the park commission, school heads and recreational directors. The Times-Mirror will welcome to its columns constructive comment on the subject with an eye to lending such a project all the aid possible.

FAT SALVAGE—AGAIN

The least successful of all salvage campaigns has been that for waste fat from households. At present we are running some 8,000,000 pounds a month behind schedule.

This fat is needed to make explosives. One pound of bacon and chicken drippings will make a pound and a half of gunpowder to fill shells used by Flying Fortress gunners to repel German and Japanese attack planes. One pound of drippings from a pork roast or the suet from beef will provide explosive to fire four 37-mm. anti-aircraft shells.

We could mention other uses for explosives in war. But why should we? Everybody knows how war depends upon explosives. It isn't ignorance that makes waste fat salvage a failure. It isn't lack of patriotism. What is it? Lethargy?

Whatever it is, how about getting that fat to the butcher?

CHINESE REDS

Marshal Chiang Kai-Shek makes it clear that the Chinese Communist party has not lived up to its 1937 agreement to participate in a unified national government and give up its own independent armies.

He charges the Communist forces with assaulting national government troops and seizing territory, thus obstructing the prosecution of the war against Japan.

On the basis of reports from China in the past, many have believed that the Communists there were ardently cooperating in the attempt to free their country from Nippon. This is not the case, judging from the best information available. They have not even rested with shirking the fighting against Japan. Chiang charges them with active obstructionism.

It is to be hoped that the Reds will accept Chiang's temperate invitation to come out of the cold into a unified China.

ALL IN THE VIEWPOINT

The Allies have been handicapped from the beginning and still are, by the fact that they approach war with certain humanitarian reservations. They decline to be the first to act like savages. They refuse, often, even to prepare to repay savagery with savagery when, in the long run, such tactics would make for earlier peace.

Thus the British declined a rocket glider bomb in 1938, a year before the invasion of Poland, because its use would have involved indiscriminate destruction. The Germans had no such compunction. They are using such a weapon. But we do not even have it ready now.

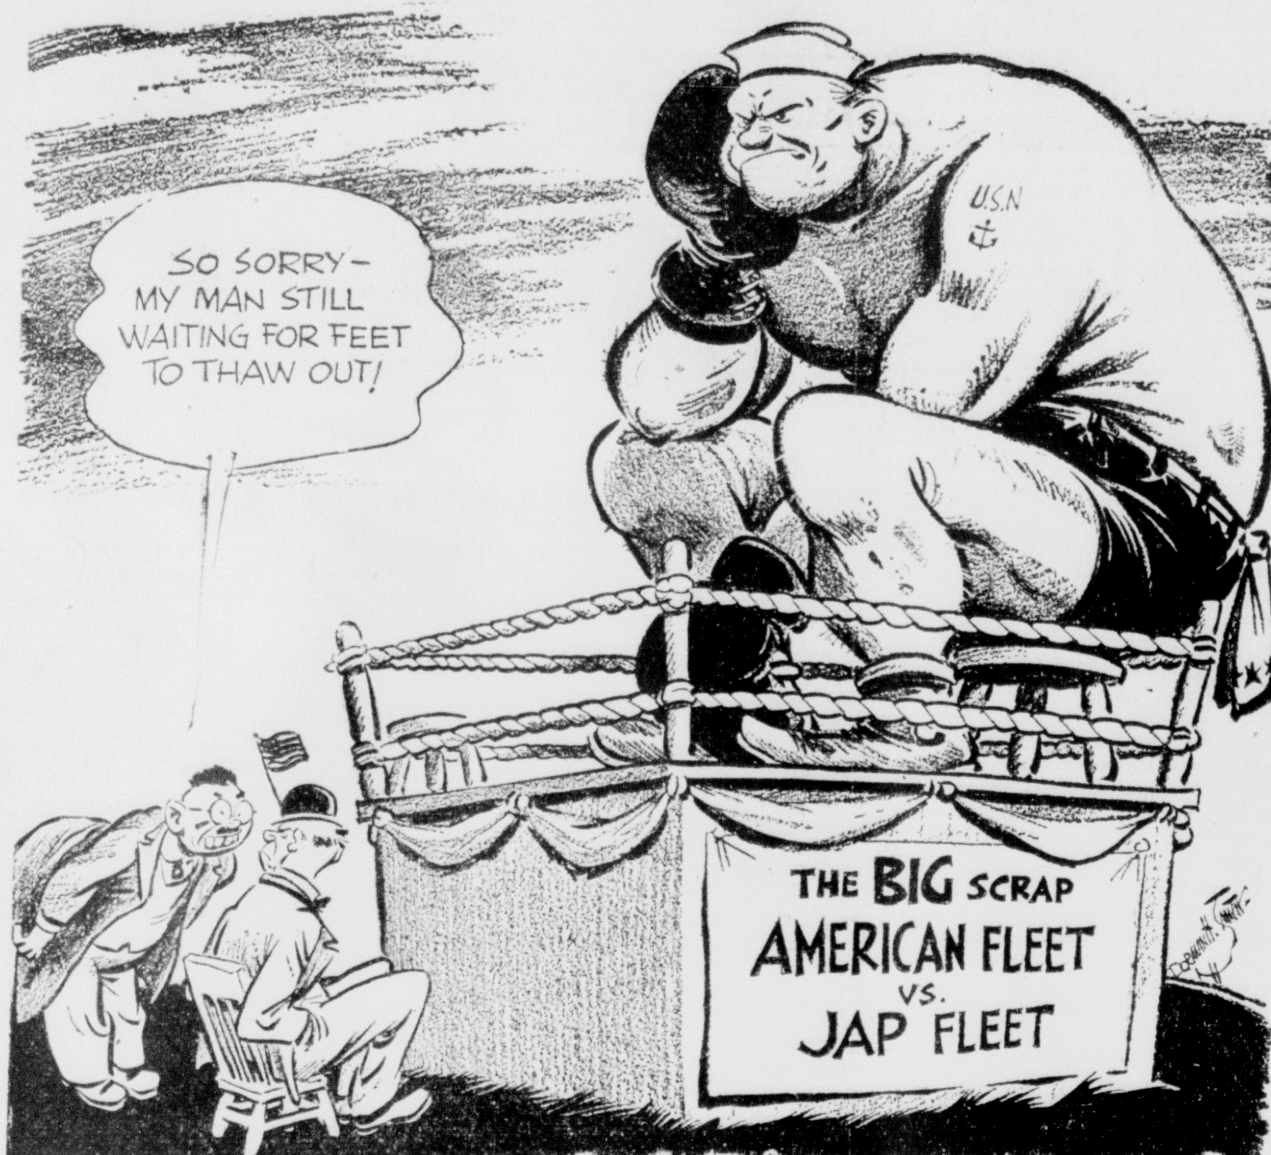

If we lost the war, we might wonder whether such decency was worth while. Winning it, we can be proud of our humanitarianism.

About time voters started showing a little interest in the election which is but a week off.

Congratulations to the Warren High School Dragons for a stunning victory over the Bradford Owls.

Better get that contribution in to the United War Fund committee.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

In 1923

Reports from the board of health show that Warren is a healthy place. At present there are four cases of scarlet fever, two of chickenpox, one of whooping cough and two of measles.

The Warren parcel post department has added a new truck. Business of the parcel post department is growing by leaps and bounds. The body of the truck is built especially for the carrying of mail.

I. G. Darling for six years one of the mechanics at the Russell Garage at Russell, Pa. He will take possession next Monday.

George Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Johnson, Water street, has accepted a position as organist in the new $300,000 theater at Herkimer, N. Y.

Sousa and his band gave a concert yesterday in Library theater. He band is a great favorite in this city and the theater was well filled to hear the famous March King and his men.

In 1933

Warren residents were awakened about 4 a. m. Sunday morning by bursts of thunder that reverberated through the skies. Heavy rain also fell for more than an hour.

The October meeting of the Past Grand of the Odd Fellows of Warren and Forest counties was held at Tidouthe with the lodge there last Wednesday. Dinner was served and the meeting that followed was enjoyed. A business meeting was devoted to the handling of some important matters.

At least 500 Scouts, Leaders and friends enjoyed the Scout Rally held Saturday in Crescent Park. The affair was highly enjoyed and Troop 42 of Ludlow captured the honors for the day.

About 50 men started work this morning on the section of sewer that will be laid from Third avenue to the mill race. It is hoped to complete the job before the weather gets too bad.

Marines are called leathernecks because in the early days of the organization a leather stock was part of the uniform.

Respect Is Not Rationed

In these days of war needs, all of us are called upon to make sacrifices—to do without the things we would consider indispensable in normal times. In serving our friends we try to make sure that such sacrifices involve only material things—not matters of the inner spirit. Respect is not rationed nor is the amount of considerate attention we give to every service—regardless of the material values involved.

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — "Living off the country" is an old military custom. Usually it means foraging, or requisitioning available foodstuffs from helpless civilians. The American Army doesn't go for that sort of thing, but thousands of U. S. soldiers abroad are living off the country just the same—and with the blessing and assistance of the War Department.

They're raising Victory gardens. For more than a year now the Quartermaster corps has been sending seeds, tools and fertilizer to remote Pacific outposts and to garisons in other parts of the world where garden-fresh vegetables help break the monotony of cans and packages.

Many Army installations in this country have Victory gardens too, but most important agricultural effort is taking place in the British Isles. There it's a joint British-American job, with the British furnishing all the equipment and supplies from stock or previously arranged lend-lease items. Both British and American soldiers work in the gardens.

In a little-publicized report, Brig. Gen. Robert A. Littlejohn, chief quartermaster for the European theater of operations, told Maj. Gen. E. B. Gregory, the quartermaster general, that all suitable land in both British and American posts, camps and stations has been taken under cultivation.

Approximately 14,000 acres are now being cultivated, General Littlejohn reported, and 1,000 more are expected to be added by the end of this year. Another 5,000 acres at U. S. Army air forces fields are also to be added soon, making a total of 20,000 acres ultimately to be devoted to gardens—the equivalent of about 100 average-sized Iowa farms.

The present 14,000 acres is made up of tiny plots behind billets to 40-acre fields. This year's return is expected to be about 25,000 tons of potatoes, General Littlejohn says, plus 134,000 tons of vegetables and root crops and 7,000 tons of hay.

While it's a fine thing to have all this food at hand for soldiers, an angle that might be overlooked is that these victory gardens are saving just that much shipping space which can now be used for munitions and leaving much more food for civilians. And General Littlejohn said the acreage, and the proportionate yield, are expected to be much larger next year, depending on how many men are still there to do the job.

Frequent moves find British troops occupying areas where Americans have started a garden, but it makes no difference. They go right ahead with it—and the Americans, wherever they wind up, will go ahead with a British garden.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, October 16—About fifty relatives and friends of Theodore Allenson met the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lundin Tuesday evening for a farewell party in his honor. Mr. Allenson leaves soon for service in the army. A delicious supper was served. A program planned by Mrs. C. F. Norbeck and a social time followed. Rev. John McCleary led a devotional service with Mrs. Norbeck and Will Johnson taking part. The intermediate class of the Free Methodist Sunday school, of which Mr. Allenson is the teacher, sang "God Save Our Men" and Mrs. Norbeck, after returning from New York, where she has been training at the Kingston Ave. Hospital. After her vacation she will return to the W. C. A. Hospital where she is a member of the training class.

Social Events

VALLEY AID
The Ladies' Aid of the Chandeliers Valley United Brethren church held its regular meeting with Mrs. Emily Eckert, dinner being served at noon to 25 members. The business session was called by the president, Mrs. Nina Haight, with devotion by Rev. Eugene Donelson and a program of readings in charge of Mrs. May Johnson. Gifts were exchanged by "secret sisters" and it was voted to serve a dinner in the church basement on election day. It was announced Red Cross sewing may be had at the home of Mrs. Wilson when anyone desires it.

GLENNA BROWN HAS SIXTH ANNIVERSARY
Glenna Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brown, entertained 20 little friends at her home in Clarendon Friday afternoon for her sixth birthday anniversary. A high spot of the day was a cablegram which came from her father, Pfc. Brown, with the Seabees in Bizerte. Halloween decorations and favors were used for the attractive refreshments table.

WEEK OF PRAYER IN CLARENDON CHURCH
The Week of Prayer and Self-denial will be observed in Clarendon Methodist church beginning Tuesday evening and continuing through Friday. Thursday evening guest speaker will be Dr. H. H. Barr, retired minister of Warren, with the program on the remaining evenings carried out according to the schedule especially arranged for this observance. All members and friends are cordially invited.

GIRLS' CLUB
The regular meeting of the High School Girls' Club will be held at the YWCA activities building this evening. The gathering is in the form of a Halloween party, with an entertaining program and refreshments and it is hoped every member will be in attendance.

HONORED BY CLUB
Members of Miss Grace Mitchell's bridge club entertained for her Friday evening with a dinner party at the Pittsfield Inn, followed by presentation of a gift for her future home.

BAPTIST AID
The First Baptist Ladies' Aid Society will hold its regular meeting in the church parlors at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday and a large attendance is hoped for.

Vernon Jones Has All-Bach Program In Senior Recital

The senior recital to be presented at the Warren Conservatory of Music at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday by Vernon Jones, talented Youngsville pianist, promises to be an unusually fine one. His program and numbers by those assisting are all from the writings of Johann Sebastian Bach.

Margaret C. Drivas, soprano, will sing two groups and Janet Jones and Lillian Swanson will assist in one three-piano selection. Young Jones, leaving soon for service in the U. S. Marine Corps, has chosen the following numbers for this recital:

I. Komm Suesser Tod; Arioso; Toccata and Fugue in D Minor—Mr. Jones.

II. Art Thou With Me; Of Flowers the Fairest from Peasant Cantata—Mrs. Drivas.

III. Concerto in C Major—Miss Jones, Miss Swanson, Mr. Jones.

IV. Open Wide My Heart; Ave Maria—Mrs. Drivas.

V. Italian Concerto—Mr. Jones, with Miss Swanson at the second piano.

All friends of the young pianist are cordially invited to be present for the event.

Mother's Day

(somewhere in Europe)

...She was taking her little boy down to the milk depot.

A low-flying plane, marked with a Swastika, found her.

She is dead now. Mother's day is done.

What will happen to her little boy?

Who'll hold him and comfort him when he cries?

Will he find something to eat?

Where will he sleep tonight?

It's up to you. Through our community fund and the National War Fund, your contribution...your generosity can help this child and others like him in the shattered countries of the world. And it can help war-shattered families here at home...provide visiting nurses...combat juvenile delinquency.

But that's not all your giving will do. Maybe there's some mother's boy...a prisoner...behind barbed wire in a prison camp. He needs help. Maybe you have a boy away from home—in an army camp—or on patrol—far out at sea. He wants books...a game...something to help ward off loneliness. Your giving will help him because some of the money goes to the USO.

This year many of the war agencies, to which you gave last year, have joined in the National War Fund, which with your local welfare agencies seeks one generous gift from you in place of many small ones. It is united giving for a united cause...on three fronts...the home front, the military front with our armed forces, and the United Nations front.

So look deep into your heart—dig deep into your purse...and give generously...Once for All these. Add up what you gave last year...then double it!

Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat

Star Pork Sausage Patties Save Time, Points

If wartime activities leave you with less time here's an idea that'll save minutes... and ration stamps, too! Try Star Pork Sausage with French Toast! It's a hearty, nutritious meat feast that you can whisk together in 20 minutes!

You'll need 1 pound of sausage to serve 4 or 5 persons. Cut the ingredients proportionately to fix a meal for fewer. When you buy the pork sausage, ask for Armour's Star Pure Pork Sausage. It's a delicious, rich meat, tastily seasoned. And, it's made fresh every day in sausage kitchens throughout the country.

Shape pork sausage into 5 or 6 patties and place in a cold frying pan. Turn heat low and fry slowly for 15 minutes, pouring off fat as it accumulates. (And here's a food saving trick: save the fat for your French toast.) Meanwhile, mix 1 cup milk with 1 beaten egg, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1 tbsp. sugar. Dip half slices of day old bread in this mixture and fry until golden brown in the sausage fat. Serve the toast with tart jelly and sausage patties.

TIMES TOPICS

MEETING AT OSCAR'S
The meeting of the Struthers Independent Hose Company scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Tuesday will take place at Oscar's Restaurant.

CHANGE IN CLASS
Because the work of installing new heating equipment in the Methodist church has not been completed, tonight's session of the Warren County Leadership Training School will again be held in First Baptist church. This is the third in the series of classes and the time is seven o'clock.

TICKET SELL-OUT
The ticket committee for the Community PTA Council's Clare Tree Major plays announces a complete sell-out for the two plays scheduled for production this season. Further announcement concerning the poster contest and opening presentation will be made soon.

GO TO CONFERENCE
Althea N. Correll, director of the Warren County Girl Scout Council, left Saturday to attend pre-convention sessions of the national wartime conference of Girl Scouts being held in Cleveland, O. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Leaving today for the regular sessions were Mrs. R. W. Mackay, Mrs. F. L. Abendroth and Mrs. H. G. Stohl, Council members.

DEER ON HIGHWAY
Drivers for the Butter-Krust Bread distribution service report that deer are now running on the highway and that many are to be seen during the early morning hours. Last week James Cruickshank, driving toward Kane, came upon three deer and one of them was knocked down but scrambled to its feet and ran away. Only a short distance beyond he sighted three deer crossing the highway in front of his car. The bus drivers of the Greyhound Company coming through this section during the night also report sighting many of the animals on the highway.

APPOINTED AGENT
An advertisement appearing elsewhere in this edition announces appointment of J. Clair Cowles as resident agent of the Equitable Life Assurance Society to succeed the late Earl R. Small, associated with the company for the past 38 years. Mr. Cowles, who recently moved his family to Warren and is residing on Central avenue, is an experienced underwriter, has been associated with Equitable for several years and will serve efficiently the many policy holders throughout Warren county and welcome the opportunity of consulting with prospects.

P. T. A. News

WASHINGTON UNIT
A large group attended the meeting of Washington PTA at the Tiona school, when Mrs. Brennan, president, announced plans for the Clare Tree Major plays and arrangements for transporting children who held tickets. An increase in membership percentage was announced and it was decided to resume the study group in conjunction with the monthly executive meetings.

An excellent program included music by the North Warren Troubadours and a reading, "The Dream of My Big Parade," by the principal, Mrs. Sigworth. The guest speaker, Miss Mildred Van Sickle, instructress of nurses at

Harold H. Amacher, of the Advisory Committee of the Manpower Commission said today relative to the campaign which has been carried on "Knowing full well the problem that is facing industry as man after man is taken into the army I have been carefully watching the number enrolling for service in the war plants here. I know the need is great and that within a very few weeks more and more women must come forward and take the places of the men at the work benches and back up the men at the front. This is a total war and everyone is in it. We are fighting for our very existence and the women must step into the places of the men when they leave for the front. I am glad to see that our women are patriotic and that they are not lagging back but are in the forefront of the ranks that are in service at home."

Work Session For Carnival Tonight

The committee in charge of North Warren's big Halloween Carnival which opens Wednesday evening announces that a work session will be held this evening to complete decoration of the various booths and concessions. All those in charge of booths are urged to be on hand.

The committee is leaving no stone unturned in its effort to make this year's spook festival the best yet, and promises that there'll be plenty of thrill-packed surprises in store when the doors are thrown open to the public Wednesday evening.

Women Enroll in Ample Numbers To Supply Needs

Success is meeting the efforts of the Manpower Commission here in recruiting 300 women for employment in seven war plants of the city. Manager David Levine this morning stated that at the present time an ample number has been enrolled but that women who desire to aid their country should call at the Employment office and enroll. There will be need of 300 additional women by December 1st, and possibly more than that number.

GRANGE NOTES

HALLOWEEN PARTY
Following its regular meeting Thursday evening, Brokenstraw Grange No. 407 will hold a Halloween party. All are asked to come costumed and to bring pumpkin pies.

VALLEY MEETING
Valley Grange, No. 846, has set its next regular meeting for Wednesday evening, October 27, at which time the public is invited to a Halloween party. The affair will also be in the nature of a farewell for Master Paul Moravek, who leaves soon for service in the armed forces. Each one attending is asked to contribute some article for the refreshments.

Master Moravek conducted the last regular meeting of this unit, when the charter was draped for a departed member, Robert Weld. A letter was read from the national master by Secretary Maude Eckdahl and response was voted to an appeal. It was also decided to have each family bring a pie for a "pie walk". The lecturer presented a program of readings, contests and mental games.

Finley's Will Sell Shells On October 27th

Don Finley, proprietor of the Finley sporting goods store, has announced that several types of shells for 1943 hunters will be available Wednesday, October 27, at seven p. m.

Finley's, a Mecca for Warren county sportsmen for the past few years, will sell shells only to those presenting their 1943 hunting licenses and proving they are Warren county hunters.

With the severe shortage of shells this year, Mr. Finley has announced he will only be able to distribute 10 shotgun shells to a license, and five rifle and ball (rifle or regular) shells a person. Foreseeing the shell shortage, Finley has several types of rifle shells on hand for distribution on the same date. These are shells not on the WPE listing and include: 32 Remington, 32-40, 38-55, 30-40, 30-06, 25-20, 32-20, 44-40, 4570, 7 MM, 8 MM, 405 Win., 4590, 348 Win., 22 Hi Power, 250-3000 and a very limited supply of 410 shot shells, also bear balls and rifle slugs in 12 ga., 16 ga., 20 ga. and 410 ga.

- The following rules govern the sale:
1. You must present your 1943 hunting license.
  2. Shells will be sold to persons holding Warren county licenses only.
  3. No shells will be reserved in advance.
  4. Ten shotgun shells to a license while they last.
  5. Five rifle shells or ball shells to a license while they last.
  6. Anyone having 10 or more rifle shells or 25 or more shotgun shells need not apply for more.
  7. No licenses will be sold the evening the shells are on sale.
- Be a sportsman. Do not apply for shells if you have a sufficient supply. Save them for the fellow who has none. Just remember, he enjoys hunting as much as you do.

Dragons Finish Home Season With Bradford Rout

Owls Rapped 19 to 0 After Fast Beginning; Locals Shine in Aerials

Gerry Vesling's 71 Yard Run Highlights Warren's First Defeat of Bradford Since 1940 as Blue and White Bows Out on Home Games

The Warren Dragons still had the wise of Owls of Bradford to contend with Saturday afternoon on Russell Field, but they didn't give a hoot and went on to tie up their feathers with a 19 to 0 drubbing, the first in three years, before a crowd of 1800.

The locals, largely on the defensive throughout the first period, were driven back into their own territory several times in the stanza, and once, the enemy had a touchdown only four yards away, but the Blue and White held through the threat and went on to score in every period from then on.

Bradford took the kickoff on their goal line with Nuzzo carting back to their 21, and it really looked like they had the stuff to defeat the Dragons when they reeled off 6 first downs with little trouble, all on line plays right through to the Warren 4 yard line, but the Dragons took over, favoring the Dragons, and Vesling got off a 55 yard boot to take them back to another starting point, on their 44.

This time the Owls met stiffer resistance and they could only take to Warren's 47, before Snyder booted. The kick glanced off Snyder's chest, and only traveled four yards, giving Warren possession for the first time, after 10 minutes of play.

After trying three plays with no gain at all, Vesling stuck the Owls back deep in their territory with another healthy kick to the Bradford 10 and Nuzzo raced back to the 28. An offside penalty and two line plays wouldn't pay off and found the Owls on fourth down at their 28 as the quarter ended. In the entire period, Warren had only tried 5 plays, two of which were punts.

Bradford's Meabon kicked on the first play after the quarter to Carlson who galloped from the Warren 37 back to Bradford's 47, before getting stopped. Snyder uncoiled an aerial, this time to Chuck Adams on the 5, and he took one step and stretched out, bringing the crowd to their feet as the referee pulled three Owls off his back and found the ball inches over for the touchdown. Snyder fumbled in his attempt to plunge for the extra, making it 6 to 0.

An exchange of punts and three intercepted passes, two on Bradford and one on Warren slowed up each team's advance the remainder of the game.

Luscious Tidbits Top Grid Program Coming Weekend

By TED MEIER

New York, Oct. 25—(P)—Army vs. Penn and Notre Dame vs. Navy, two of the most luscious tidbits of the season, top Saturday's college football program.

For weeks pigskin fanatics have been hoping that these four teams—ranked with Purdue as the first five in the country—would reach October 30 unbeaten and united.

Now that their dreams have been fulfilled the demand for tickets to see the games at Franklin Field in Philadelphia and at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium can be expected to increase daily. By kickoff time it is likely that 80,000 will be on hand at Cleveland and 70,000 at Philadelphia—virtual sell-outs.

In the final "tuneups" Penn thumped Columbia, 33-0; Army walked over Yale, 39-7; Notre Dame crushed Illinois, 47-0; and Navy beat Georgia Tech, 28-14, scoring two touchdowns in the last period to shatter a 14-14 tie.

These scores compare with Army's earlier 52-0 rout of Columbia, Penn's 41-7 victory over Yale and Notre Dame's 55-13 conquest of Georgia Tech.

Elsewhere Saturday's chief developments included Southern

California's 6-0 last period defeat of college of the Pacific before 75,000 and Michigan's running riot, 49-6, against Minnesota.

Washington trounced highly regarded March Field, 27-7, while Purdue and Tony Gutkovich exploded for three touchdowns in the last quarter to beat Iowa, 28-7.

In the east Colgate scored an unexpected 20-7 victory over Cornell while in the south, the Louisiana State Tigers, on the prowl for an Orange Bowl invite, crushed Georgia, 27-6, as Steven Van Buren rolled up 20 points on three touchdowns and two conversions.

The undefeated Texas Aggies lost prestige in being held to a scoreless tie by North Texas Aggies as Tulane beat Southern Methodist, 12-6, on Jim Shiver's 57-yard run. Unbeaten Tulsa got a good workout in whipping Utah, 55-0, while Nebraska upset favored Kansas, 7-6 on Walt Wilkins' 65-yard punt return.

Northwestern and Otto Graham blanked Ohio, 13-0, the first shut-out for the Buckeyes under Coach Paul Brown, while Colorado College beat Colorado University, 16-6, and southwestern, of Texas, took a 27-6 drubbing from Southwestern of Louisiana.

Four Teams In WPIAL Meet

Pittsburgh, Oct. 25—(P)—Four teams continued to ride high, wide and handsome in the WPIAL Class AA football race as the result of weekend victories, but one of them is due for a tumble come Friday. Two if the unbeaten eleven, New Castle and Clairton, will do their best to eliminate each other Friday night. The odds will be with Clairton which will be trying for its 21st consecutive victory.

Another one of the four, Turtle Creek, will face a genuine test against Donora. Brownsville is the fourth team in the undefeated category.

Six high schools still have their heads above water in the Class A championships. They are Clark, Dunbar, Dormont, Sewickley Township, Springdale and Glassport.

TOP RANKING TEAMS BEING THINNED OUT

New York, Oct. 25—(P)—Six football teams were knocked out of the unbeaten and untied class over the weekend, thinning the select group to 16.

College of the Pacific, Southwestern of Texas, March Field, Colorado University, Minnesota and Texas Aggies were the six bumped out of the rankings. The first five were defeated while the Texas Aggies played a scoreless tie with the North Texas Aggies.

Purdue tops the remaining 16, having played six games. Notre Dame, Pennsylvania, Army, Navy, Iowa Seahawks and Southern California are close behind.

Baugh Setting Records For The Redskins

By DAVE HOFF

Chicago, Oct. 25—(P)—Sammy Baugh is setting aerial records for the Washington Redskins and Sid Luckman is setting the Chicago Bears to victories with his touchdown pitches. The teams with the great passers are still leading the way in the two divisions of the National Football league.

Baugh, now in his seventh season, has turned in almost unparalleled two new all-time records this fall—his lifetime total of 64 touchdowns passes beating the 59 set by Cedi Isbell of Green Bay, and his 7,057 yards gained on passing topping the 6,741 by Arne Herber of Green Bay.

Luckman, only a five-year man in the pro league, holds no record yet but has thrown 11 touchdowns in five games and has meant a lot to the Bears who are no longer supreme with their ground attack as in the old days. Baugh has pitched eight aerials for touchdowns in only three games and with seven to go is well on the way to breaking Isbell's record of 24 for a season. He threw to Joe Aguirre for one Redskin score yesterday and his aerials paved the way for another touchdown, by Andy Farkas, that provided a 13 to 7 victory over the ambitious but still unwilling Chicago Cardinals.

Luckman threw 22 passes yesterday against the Brooklyn Dodgers and completed 15, two to George Wilson for touchdowns, as his contribution to a 33 to 21 Chicago win over Pete Cawthon's boys.

Rail Transportation And Coal Production Hangs in Balance

tee would be given the power to call a strike to enforce any demands made upon the railroad management. This broad change is to be submitted to the union members for a vote.

In another action, AFL union leaders threatened a strike over the War Labor Board decision awarding five cents an hour wage increase to 3,500 Los Angeles railway and motor coach employees. They asked 10 cents. A petition for a strike vote among the employees will be filed with the national labor relations board, the AFL said.

A pessimistic view of the coal supply came meanwhile from a joint British-American board surveying Allied requirements. The report said Britain is 30,000 miners short, the U. S. needs 35,000 more and the combined mines are losing employment at the rate of 2,500 a month. The United Nations need 600,000,000 tons of U. S. Bituminous coal for 1943 and production was estimated at only 580,000,000, which means the stockpile will hit a gravely low figure of 40,000,000 tons by Jan. 1.

Yugoslav Forces In Bitter Clash

London, Oct. 25.—(P)—Rival Yugoslav forces of Gen. Josip Tito and Gen. Draza Mihailovic have clashed today in a bitter battle in the hills of Montenegro. Tito's Free Yugoslav radio announced today as his partisans continued to engage the Germans in other parts of war-torn Yugoslavia.

The fighting between partisans and the forces of King Peter's war minister was said to be particularly heavy in the Matesevo and Mont Cakor areas where, the radio declared, Mihailovic's Chetniks had joined the Germans.

Game Commission Receives Numerous Unusual Questions

By RALPH E. WALLIS

Harrisburg, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Troubled with squirrels in the attic? Or maybe you're seeking a friendly way of evicting a skunk from the cellar—write the Pennsylvania Game Commission, and looking after the welfare of the state's game.

In addition to issuing licenses both hunters and their quarry, the commission operates an information bureau which calls for answers to such questions as: "How can we get rid of squirrels in our attic? We can't sleep."

"Nuts," the commission told the Ardmore inquirer, "should be used to bait an ordinary flat rat trap and wham—you've caught a squirrel."

To a western Pennsylvania writer who wanted to know how to case a skunk out of his cellar without repercussions, the commission advised placing a plank from the floor to the window and assured him the furry tenant would walk out unassisted.

Charles F. Stambaugh, chief law enforcement clerk, said he can't always help those who write in, and explained a soldier on furlough wanted permission to hunt "just one day" before the game season opened because he was due to go overseas.

"That would take a special act of legislature and we had to turn him down," said Stambaugh. He also explained to a "I-A" registrant it was impossible for the commission to redeem a hunting license if he was inducted into the armed forces before the big game season opened.

Stambaugh wrote "no" to such question as "is it lawful to sell deer tails in Pennsylvania?" and "are there any mule deer in this state?"

Auto Crashes Send Seven To Hospital For Emergency Care

As a result of automobile accidents on Saturday night and early Sunday morning seven persons received treatment at the Warren General Hospital. None were seriously injured as the last of the persons admitted were discharged on Sunday.

The first of the series of crashes took place on Market street, near the Presbyterian church about 11:15 Saturday night, Adam H. Andregg, 10 Jackson street, North Warren was driving north on Market street when a car coming south approached. Mrs. Andregg fearful that the cars would crash grabbed the wheel causing Mr. Andregg to lose control of the car. It crashed into a pole and damaged the car to the extent of about $100. Mrs. Andregg was taken to the hospital. She had brush burns on both knees and an X-ray was made of her head for possible skull injuries. She was discharged Sunday.

About 12:30 a. m. F. E. Schumann, 3 Locust street started to make a left turn into Park avenue when his car crashed with one driven by Joseph P. Tutmaher. Tutmaher, who resides in Chandlers Valley, was driving west on the avenue. It is alleged that he did not have his lights on when the crash came. He denied this allegation as did passengers in his car. Schumann sustained some severe hurts in the crash having a deep cut on the chin, an injury to his chest and a fracture of the lower jaw. An X-ray was also made to determine the extent of injuries to his left wrist.

Arnold Maeder, 325 Park Avenue, a passenger in the car of Schumann had several cuts, three teeth knocked out and brush burns. He was discharged Sunday.

Elaine Henning, Youngsville Rd. 1, also in the Tutmaher car had an injury to the left foot, fingers on the right hand cut and abrasions and brush burns. She was treated at the hospital.

Carl Eckert, of Chandlers Valley, also in the Tutmaher car had a severe bump on his forehead.

Tutmaher had a cut on the left temple, cuts and burns about the face and was given treatment at the hospital.

Helen Amacher, Sugar Grove Rd. 1, who was also in the Tutmaher car escaped any injuries.

Another crash on Pennsylvania avenue, near the Warren Bank and Trust sent two to the hospital who were discharged after treatment. James C. Fleming, of Youngsville stopped at the point of the bank building and then pulled out. His vision was obscured by parked cars and he drove into the car of James Higgenbotham, Warren Rd. 3. Fleming admitted being in fault and assumed liability. Miss Shirley Daugherty, Russell and Michael Lyons, of Youngsville, passengers in the cars were slightly hurt and were treated at the hospital. Miss Daugherty sustained a cut over one eye and Lyon suffered from shock.

Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. Guy Kiffer, Warren Rd. 1 struck Charles Aldinger age 12 while driving on Pennsylvania avenue, east. The boy was knocked down and was removed to a physician's office for treatment. He was not seriously injured.

G-GIRL

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW

Chapter 5

ROOM 4B, 1918 Nineteenth Street, N.W., was home to Sally almost immediately. There wasn't any chance to feel homesick; her three high-spirited roommates kept up a constant banter that both amazed and amused Sally. They looked on this whole difficult business of making a living in wartime Washington as a huge lark.

Yes, they didn't have much money, but there were lots of places to go in Washington with an empty pocketbook. There was Mellon Art Gallery, with its superlative rotunda of deep-green marble. In the summer there were concerts at the Sylvan Theater, a beautiful semi-circle carved out of the green hillside.

Once in a while, when there was a little spare cash, the girls witnessed the opening of one of the season's new plays from 55-cent seats high up in the National Theater.

The energy of her roommates astounded Sally. Meg, the only one of the trio married—her husband was on a destroyer somewhere in the Atlantic—spent most of her free time in a Nurse's Aide uniform. With a box of crackers in her pocket she went direct from work to Children's Hospital three nights a week.

Dippy, the curly-haired girl who had greeted her, was studying history at the American University. Said Dippy, "I haven't been to college and I'll probably never live long enough to get a degree now, but anyway I'd like to find out how the world got into this mess." Dippy looked like the last person in the world to be going to night school, but she went.

Frances was musical and sang in a church choir now rehearsing strenuously for its May cantata. "Thank goodness she doesn't try to practice here," said Dippy.

STANDING in line for her customary sandwich and carton of milk in the seething War Commission cafeteria, Sally reflected how idle her exuberant roommates made her feel with only a job to hold down. She had to admit the girls were smart. If your leisure hours were as carefully budgeted as your working time, there wasn't any chance to pine either for family or unobtainable dates. And of course it went deeper than that. Meg and Dippy and Frances thought that it was a crime to sit and brood about the good old days back in the home town when the experience of living in Washington might never be afforded any of them again.

At last the crawling line of hungry people brought Sally to the counter. She picked up a paper-wrapped cream cheese sandwich, a carton of milk and a straw, and looked around for an empty chair. There was never any empty table. You just rushed for a free seat without apology to the table's first comers. Just as she dropped into a vacant place at a table behind a pillar, the man there rose to leave. Too late, Sally realized she was face to face with the sandy-haired doctor.

The doctor recognized her immediately. "Why hello. How is the glamour girl? I see you are still with us. His brown eyes looked down at her mockingly.

"And I see you are just as insulating as ever," Sally would have loved to heave the milk carton straight in his sardonic face.

"Who, me?" The doctor laughed. "I think glamour girls are wonderful—especially when they're doing their duty by their country. What a morale-booster you are! So long, my dear. Till our paths cross again."

SALLY was trembling with anger. Just thinking about that first hateful episode with the doctor enraged her, and seeing him was ten times worse. She was so angry she barely noticed the girl who sat down with her. Vaguely she thought she'd seen her in the office upstairs, but there were so many faces most of them were a blur in her memory. But the newcomer nodded as she put her tray down, and said, "I believe I've seen you before. Don't you work with Pat Lyons?" Sally assented and the girl went on. "I'm one of Mr. Ripston's secretaries."

The girl must be good. Sally tabbed her anger momentarily as the conversation went on. The girl's name was Mary McDermott, she told Sally, who noted briefly that she wore a wedding ring.

Sally asked, "I suppose you have a soldier husband too, or are you lucky enough to be together here?"

The answer was quite casual. "Yes, he's in the Army. I heard recently from the War Department that he's been listed as missing in action."

Sally sat very still, listening in action. That could mean anything. And yet the girl had spoken in normal tones. "How do you stand it?"

Well, I try to work so hard every minute all day and keep so busy that I'm dead tired when I fall into bed at night. Then I sleep so hard I don't have nightmares. When I first received the telegram, I thought the worst, of course. But some of my friends' husbands originally were listed as missing and now they have been heard through the Red Cross that they are prisoners. So there is some hope.

"Speaking of work," definitely she closed the door on the subject, "you might be interested to know there's a big need for more Nurse's Aides right now. That's one of the evening chores I have. If you're new in Washington and don't have many friends yet, you might be glad of something definite to do—and I can tell you your services would be appreciated. There is quite a group of government girls."

mott, she told Sally, who noted briefly that she wore a wedding ring.

Sally asked, "I suppose you have a soldier husband too, or are you lucky enough to be together here?"

The answer was quite casual. "Yes, he's in the Army. I heard recently from the War Department that he's been listed as missing in action."

Sally sat very still, listening in action. That could mean anything. And yet the girl had spoken in normal tones. "How do you stand it?"

Well, I try to work so hard every minute all day and keep so busy that I'm dead tired when I fall into bed at night. Then I sleep so hard I don't have nightmares. ## G-GIRL

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW

Chapter 6

WEEKS later, when Sally knew her way around the creaking halls of Emergency Hospital as well as she knew the well-worn route to the War Commission building, she was to remember the first night she reported for duty as a qualified Nurse's Aide. All the classroom lectures, the hours spent showing Dora the Dummy around in an immaculately made bed, the pulses she'd taken so accurately on her fellow students, couldn't prepare her for that first horrible moment when the floor nurse said, "Get that light on 528, will you, Miss Thayer." She's probably coming out of the ether."

Sally's hands were ice cold as she looked fearfully around the screen that shielded 528 from her three fellow patients. "Nurse, I think I'm going to vomit," gasped the girl on the pillow. Sally grabbed the basin just in time. When it was over and the girl had smiled gratefully as she washed her face with cold water, Sally staggered weakly out into the hall, feeling as though she'd been under ether too. But she was triumphant. She had done the job—and next time it wouldn't be so hard.

The floor nurse, an understanding soul, noticed Sally's face and sent her to take the eight o'clock temperatures in the men's medical ward. The medical ward was in the convalescent stage, with no very sick and the enthusiasm with which they greeted the new Aide restored some of Sally's equilibrium. She was slow with the temperatures, partly because of the wisecracks sizzling around the room, but at least her hands had stopped shaking when she was through.

TRAMP, tramp, tramp, up and down all evening in her heavy-soled shoes. Toward ten o'clock, when she was to go off duty, she was stiff with fatigue. Nurses went by, operating room attendants wheeled stretchers in and out, other Aides passed and repassed her, visitors whispering nervously to each other tip-toed up and down like characters in a movie.

Three hours, Sally thought.

That's all I've been here. How do I get out of here? A full shift? Changing wearably back to street clothes in the locker room down in the nurses' home, she wondered if she'd live to get home to bed. Her feet felt swollen to twice their size. She winced as she eased her feet into her spectator pumps carefully. If she only didn't have to stand up on the street car! There were two changes to make too before she could get home.

She was too weary to focus on anyone as she waited on the narrow safety platform for the street car, until a familiar voice spoke behind her. "If it isn't the glamour girl! I begin to think you're shadowing me."

Sally didn't even turn around. "Go away."

The sandy-haired doctor came around in front of her, hatless, his coat collar turned up around his neck. Sally couldn't see his face clearly in the shadowy light, but she didn't want to see it. His usual sardonic expression was all too familiar. "Won't talk, eh? Don't you even want to fight?"

"What a congenial soul! By the way, what are you doing in front of my hospital?"

"Your hospital!" Sally came to sudden life. "Are you on the Emergency staff?"

"Certainly am. Right now, I'm almost the only doctor there not on crutches. Though I don't know why your sudden interest."

"Oh, my soul, I guess I'll have to be transferred," Sally groaned. "Transferred to what?"
